Montross to revisit UNC 'Glory Days'

♣ Join Tar Heel basketball titan Eric Montross as he relives "Glory Days with UNC Basketball" at 7 p.m. Saturday, September 21, at downtown Asheboro's historic Sunset Theatre.

Montross's appearance is free and the public is invited. It's the final installment of the 2019 Friends of the Library Sunset Signature Series, sponsored by the Heart of North Carolina Visitors Bureau, the City of Asheboro and the Friends of the Randolph County Public Library.

Montross was a two-time All American at UNC, and an integral part of the Tar Heels team that won the 1993 NCAA National Championship against Michigan.

At the professional level, he was ninth overall pick in the 1994 NBA draft and was selected by the Boston Celtics. In his rookie year, he averaged 10 points per game and was named 2nd Team All-Rookie.

He also played for the Dallas Mavericks, the Philadelphia 76ers, the New Jersey Nets, the Detroit Pistons and the Toronto Raptors before retiring in 2003.

Montross currently is major gift director in the UNC athletics department, and provides color commentary for the UNC Basketball radio broadcast alongside Jones Angell.

He also is heavily involved in philanthropic work. He founded the Father's Day Basketball Camp benefitting the North Carolina Children's Hospital, and serves on the boards of Super Cooper's Little Red Wagon Foundation, Be Loud! Sophie Foundation, and Vaccine Ambassadors, which promotes equitable access to lifesaving vaccines and which Montross co-founded.

A native of Indianapolis, he attended Lawrence North High School where he was a McDonald's All American. He

SUNSET SERIES 2020

Three of four presenters have been selected for the 2020 Friends of the Library Sunset series: Elizabeth Smart, who survived a nine-month abduction in 2002 to become an author and child safety advocate; speed painter Tim Decker, who creates large paintings before the audiences eyes — sometimes painting with both hands — all set to music; and Jeopardy! champion Ken Jennings. A fourth event will be announced soon.

See reverse for 2020 details and dates.

Survivor, Author and Child Safety Advocate

Elizabeth Smart

7 p.m. Saturday, February 15, 2020

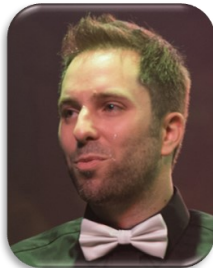

The abduction of Elizabeth Smart in 2002 was one of the most followed child abduction cases of our time. Through this traumatic experience, Elizabeth has become an advocate for change related to child abduction, recovery programs and national legislation.

Performance Speed Painter

Tim Decker

7 p.m. Saturday
March 14, 2020

Tim Decker is a nationally touring performance speed painter who paints celebrity and patriotic portraits live in front of a crowd — often painting with both hands — during a high-energy, upbeat show that combines music, art, humor and audience participation.

Jeopardy Champion

Ken Jennings

7 p.m. Saturday
April 18, 2020

Ken Jennings was a software engineer in Salt Lake City in 2004 when he was selected for the TV game show Jeopardy! Little did he know his appearance would extend for 74 games over six months, earning him $2.52 million and making him the reigning Jeopardy! Champion.
