Woman's Club Conducts Meeting

By JANICE SMITH

The Archdale-Trinity Woman's Club held its September luncheon meeting recently at the Hamilton Street Cafe.

Joyce Varner, club president, welcomed the following guests: Elizabeth Allred, Jan Burge, Lutricia Darr, Frances Hall, Louise Labonte, Margurite Lee, Louise McLean, Susan Wilson, Glenda Ogren, and Patricia Small, Juniorette president.

Glenda Ogren, color analysis and fashion color co-ordinator, demonstrated combining correct make-up coloring and fashion coloring for the proper fashion look. Ogren emphasized the fabric color next to your face was the most important color and it should not overpower your face. Ogren demonstrated skin tone coloring saying each person is either a blue-tone or gold tone skin color and should choose fashion colors accordingly.

Varner announced the North Carolina Federation of Women's Clubs district 7 fall meeting will be held Oct. 12 at the First Presbyterian Church in Burlington.

Education chairman Diane Meredith reported plans are being made for Carrousel Theatre. The Woman's Club pays for the transportation for third grade students in the Archdale-Trinity schools to attend the three plays at Carrousel.

Arts chairman Janice Smith reported the club won first place in overall arts division at the NCFWC State convention in May.

The first meeting of the Golden Age Club will meet the fourth Wednesday in September according to Kim Labonte. Gerontology chairman.

Seven members of the Juniorette Club at Trinity High School attended Summer Jamboree in July. Patricia Small, Juniorette president, reported the club won first place in the scrapbook division and won first runner-up in Public Affairs.

Varner reminded all members to be turning in their recipes for the club's cookbook project.

Lynda Petty Addresses Woman's Club

By JANICE SMITH

The Archdale-Trinity Woman's Club held its regular monthly meeting Oct. 10 at the Western Sizzlin Steak House. President Joyce Varner led the devotion and welcomed the eleven members present and guest Lynda Petty.

Petty, newly elected member of the Randolph County Board of Education, talked of some of the problems of Randolph County schools. She said that, considering the amount of money the county has to spend per student, the students are receiving as good an education as students do in other districts. She also said the county will be watching the results of some districts beginning merit pay for teachers. Marie Reddeck, encouraged every member to exercise her privilege of voting on Nov. 6. Diane Meredith, education chairman, and Kim Labonte visited the three elementary schools in Archdale-Trinity to promote Carrousel Theatre. The woman's club pays for the transportation of all third graders to the theater. Labonte, gerontology chairman, reported the Golden Age Club will be going to Asheboro this month. They will lunch at the Salt Box and tour surrounding areas to view the autumn leaves.

Arts Chairman Janice Smith announced the arts and crafts contest will be in January. The schools will be contacted shortly to begin the annual student arts and crafts contest.

Shirley Clodfelter, Juniorette chairman, reported the Trinity High School Juniores held their membership initiation, with the girls dressing as housewives and going to Westchester Mall.

Ways and means chairman Judy Grisso, announced the club would have a yard and bake sale on Nov. 3 at Wachovia Bank in Archdale.

Golden Age Club Hosts A-T Women

By SHIRLEY CLODFELTER

The Archdale Trinity Golden Age Club had as their guests members of the Archdale Trinity Woman's Club for a Thanksgiving dinner, on Nov. 14 at the Archdale Methodist Church hut.

Juanita Hamilton and Norma Proctor helped the Golden Agers serve the meal. Rachel Booze had the devotional, asking us to be thankful for things that are not easy to be thankful for.

A combined business session was held before the meal. Judy Grissom, Woman's Club ways and means chairman, announced the yard and bake sale was a success and distributed Christmas ornaments that the club is selling. The club will have a white elephant sale at the January meeting.

Plans were made to help with the distribution of Christmas presents collected by the Trinity High School students for needy children in the community.

Juniorette chairman Shirley Clodfelter reported that the Juniores had a busy month. They sold candles, cleaned the football stadium after games, honored a teacher of the month, took tray favors to the hospital, baked cookies for the teachers for National Education Week and started saving newspapers for a conservation project. Lynn Smith, Juniorette secretary, was a guest.

Candace Hammond from Farmer presented a program on antique clothing. Jennifer Miller modeled outfits from the Victorian era through the 60s as Hammond added accessories and described the changing styles of each decade.

She demonstrated how history, personalities and life styles influenced the clothing. She said in fashion nothing is new — that we borrow, we adapt and that styles are cyclical.

Special guests were Hilda Barnes, Lutritia Darr and Barbara Van Meter, Kim Labonte's mother.

Louise McLean was welcomed as a new member. Margaret Lee won the door prize, a crocheted Christmas tree, given by the Golden Age Club.

The woman's club invited the golden agers to be their guests at their Christmas meeting at the Friends Church Fellowship Hall on Dec. 12.

Club Meets Woman's

By JANICE SMITH

The Archdale Trinity Woman's Club held its February meeting last Wednesday at Howard Johnson's. Joyce Varner, club president welcomed guest Ann White.

Rachel Booze, chaplain, gave a devotion entitled "The Greatest of Love."

Arts Chairman Janis Smith announced the winners of the Student Literature Contest. In grades 7, 8 and 9 Marla Hatfield won first place in poetry; second place went to Susan Davis and third place to Anjanette Hoglem. In grades 7, 8 and 9, short story first place went to Bobby McCroskey, second place to Tanya Fausnet and third place to Dawn White.

Shawn Pegram placed first in short story and poetry for grades 10-12.

Education chairman Diane Meredith announced that Pegram, a senior at Trinity High School, will receive the club's Sally Southall Cotton Scholarship of $100.

Varner reported the Home Life Department is sending $25 to Girl's Haven in Asheboro.

The Juniorette Club at Trinity High School had a tea for club members on Feb. 17 at the Archdale Methodist Church fellowship hall. Shirley Clodfelter, Juniorette advisor, announced the Juniorettes are conducting a paper drive and will be serving refreshments to the Archdale police for the club's Archdale Police Appreciation Day.

A princess house party is being planned by the ways and means committee to be held March 19 at the home of committee chairman Judy Grissom. Grissom announced the club will have an auction at the next meeting in March. Grissom also reported Andrea McDowell Smith, a teacher at the Archdale-Trinity Middle School, won the Karastan Rug at the club's student talent contest.

Woman's Club Hosts Luncheon

By JANICE SMITH

The Archdale-Trinity Women's Club entertained members of the Golden Age Club at their December luncheon meeting at Archdale Friends Meeting.

Devotions were given by Mary Hamilton, president of the Golden Agers, and Rachel Booze, woman's club chaplain. Special guest was Amy Clodfelter of the Trinity High School Juniorette Club. Melissa Doo of Trinity, vocalist, presented a program of Christmas carols.

During the business session, Shirley Clodfelter, Juniorette advisor, reported the Juniorettes had given the resources class a Christmas party and were having a paper drive. Judy Grissom, ways and means chairman, announced the club would have an auction at the January meeting. Janice Smith, arts chairman, reminded members of the arts contest in January.

A tentative date of Feb. 2 was set for the annual Archdale-Trinity School Student Talent Contest.

Joyce Varner, club president, presented each club member with a gift, club members exchanged Christmas ornaments and club members gave each Golden Age member a gift.

Woman's Club Meets

By JANICE SMITH

Tom Stroozas, solar energy representative of Piedmont Natural Gas Co., presented a film and program for the Archdale-Trinity Woman's Club April meeting.

Stroozas gave several facts on the efficiency of solar energy for heating household water. The national average of water consumption per person per day is 20 gallons. Thirty to 40 percent of our electricity statement goes to heat water. Solar energy can save 80 percent on heating water, therefore, a solar energy system averaging $4,000 purchased now will pay for itself in three to three and a half years.

Stroozas also told club members if a solar energy system is installed in your home by Dec. 31, the federal government will give a tax credit for 65 percent of the cost.

Mauna Shea, a representative of Educational Foundation for Foreign Study, introduced two exchange students. Klaus Bonhoff from Germany is staying with the Glenn Thomas family and is attending Trinity High School. Marion Slotman from Holland is staying with a family in Candor and is attending East Montgomery High School. The students told of some of the differences between their schools and countries and the United States.

Joyce Varner conducted the business meeting and welcomed special guest Joanie Clodfelter.

Arts Chairman Janice Smith reported that Martha Labonte won third place in ceramics at the NCFWC State Arts Festival at Salem College on March 30. Varner and Rachel Booze attended the Arts Festival.

Golden Age Club hostesses for April are Booze, Marguerite Lee and Marie Reddeck.

Officers for 1985-86 will be installed at the May meeting.

Woman's Club Meets

By JANICE SMITH

Jean Johnson, volunteer coordinator with the Randolph County Department of Social Services, spoke at the Archdale-Trinity Woman's Club meeting Wednesday at Howard Johnson's.

Johnson stated the family planning program needs help from people in the Archdale-Trinity area to work one-on-one with girls in the area who have become pregnant or have a small baby.

This program is making good strides, she said, in helping girls get back into school to finish their education and not become pregnant again.

Joyce Varner opened the business session welcoming Ann Whitt as a new member. Special guest included Stephanie Morris, telephone chairman of the Trinity High School Juniores, and Margaret Phillips.

Rachel Booze gave devotions centered around poem "Look To This Day."

Ways and means chairman Judy Grissom reported on the bus trip to the Southern Living Show and the Princess House Party on March 19.

Arts chairman Janice Smith announced winners at the District 7 Arts Festival March 2, which was held in High Point. Martha Labonte's first place entry in woodcraft was entered in the North Carolina Federation of Women's Club's State Arts Festival held March 30 at Salem College in Winston-Salem.

Education chairman Diane Meredith reported Shawn Pegram will receive the club's $100 Sallie Southall Cotton Scholarship. Meredith also stated the club will send $25 to the District 7 scholarship fund.

Juniorette advisor Shirley Clodfelter reviewed the Juniorette activities at the high school which included giving $100 college scholarship for a Juniorette.

The club decided to participate in the Cystic Fibrosis Foundation's "Mother's Day Tea" which is a fund-raising public education project for NCFWC members.

Marge Clements, Elizabeth Aldridge, Rachel Booze and Joyce Varner will hostess the Golden Age Club for March.

PUBLIC AFFAIRS
Our Court Watch Program is getting back on schedule after a rough winter. We need more volunteers. If you are interested please get in touch with Georgia Thayer, phone number 882-2182.

EDUCATION
Due to a conflict at Evergreens Nursing Facility, the program due to be given by Emma Padgett on March 21 has been rescheduled for May 9. Many thanks to Emma for helping with this unforeseen change in Tea and Topics Program.

On Thursday, March 28, Mrs. Elinor M. Underwood, accompanied by Mrs. Sylvia Carter, presented a musical concert of secular and sacred music for the residents.

Tea and Topics Programs are presented by the various members of the High Point Woman's Club every first and third Thursday of the month at the Evergreens.

The Musical Group of residents of the Evergreens meets on the second and fourth Thursday of the month. This group has grown from 12 to approximately 20 residents and is led by Mrs. Elinor Underwood and Mrs. Gladys Brooks.

NCFWC ART FESTIVAL

We won First Place in Drama, CeeCee Wasmer; First Place in male vocal, Tony Griffey and two blue ribbons in Crafts. One was awarded to Martha Kenney and the other to Mable Whitescarver. Congratulations to all the winners and the membership.

A heartfelt "thank you" to Marjorie Welborn, Billie Owens and Martha Kenney for the hard work and long hours they put into the District and State Art Festivals. A job well done.

INFORMATION

The money, raised by our membership, for Tony Griffey has been put into an account at Preferred Savings and Loan for ninety days at 9% interest. The total raised is $1,005.00.

SUNSHINE

Polly Hurley was operated on March 21. She is at home and doing very well. She is confined for the next six to eight weeks. Drop in to see her.
Ethel Silver is in Forsyth Hospital in Winston-Salem but is to be transferred to Baptist Hospital.
Please remember our sick members with cards.

WAYS AND MEANS

Our Bridge Benefit was a huge success thanks to all who were so willing with their help. Ticket money brought $706.00; raffle tickets (on three items), $55.90; Flea Market, $74.00 and the Bake Sale, $306.90. Thank you to all who contributed with attendance, contributions and labor.

And now---HELP--HELP--HELP! We need volunteers to work at the Furniture Market. Please call Martha Kenney. WE NEED YOU.

Our hostesses today are Kay Morgan Smithson and Patty Speight.

Kim LaBonte shows the Karistan Carpet she won and donated back to our Club.

TALENT SHOW SATURDAY. Kim Labonte, a member of the Archdale-Trinity Woman's Club, is shown with the Karistan carpet she donated to the club to raffle off at Saturday night's Talent Awards Contest. The annual talent show begins at 7 p.m. in the Trinity High School theater. Tickets are available at the door for $2.50, and donations of $1 are asked by the club for each chance at winning a rug. (The 4 x 6 carpet is in the Winter Plum pattern.) The talent show will be students in grades 8 through 12 from area schools. The contest helps fund a $500 scholarship for the woman's club to a talented student. The proceeds also go to a dress rehearsal for the next year's talent show at the theater.
