HOLLINGSWORTH IS 1950 PRESIDENT OF KIWANIS CLUB

Succeeds J. T. Allen In Installation At Ladies' Night Program

MUSICAL PROGRAM

Officers of the Asheboro Kiwanis club for 1950, headed by T. C. Hollingsworth as president, were installed at a ladies' night dinner Tuesday night at the Kiwanis Teen Age building. The new president succeeds J. T. Allen.

Dr. N. M. Harrison of High Point, former member of the Asheboro club and former lieutenant-governor of the Kiwanis district, conducted the installation.

New officers include W. W. Adkins, vice president; T. F. Bulla, Jr. secretary; and W. C. Drake, treasurer.

Directors include J. T. Allen, the immediate past president, Dr. Frank Edmondson, G. E. Miller, G. B. Teachey, J. L. Williams and W. E. Woodruff.

Retiring President Allen recognized several past presidents, among them S. E. Trogdon, Andy Rabb, John Williams, Garland Allen, John W. Hadley, Jr., W. C. Lucas, G. E. Miller, Walter C. Craven and R. L. Bunch.

He recognized also Mrs. T. A. Burns, widow of the club's first president.

The retiring president also recognized 1949 officers, directors and committee chairmen, and thanked them for their services during the past year.

Mr. Allen presented the incoming president with a gavel. Accepting, Mr. Hollingsworth declared the club's future success will depend upon the service it renders.

Baxter Johnson was presented a pin for three years' perfect attendance.

The Kiwanians enjoyed a program of musical entertainment.

Miss Betty Sue Coltrane of High Point sang "It's A Grand Night For Singing," "Bird's Song At Eventide," "A Heart That Is Free," "The Little French Clock," and "Come To The Fair."

Miss Joan Brown, High Point dancer, presented three ballet numbers. Ray Hollingsworth of High Point, who will appear as tap dancer next summer at the Roxie theatre in New York, it was announced, gave a demonstration of tap dancing. Mrs. G. M. Haley was piano accompanist for the dancers.

Miss Dorothy Lewis, High Point pianist, played "Claire de Lune" by Debussy. Miss Lewis also played accompaniment for Miss Coltrane.

The Kiwanians and guests enjoyed a chicken dinner complete with trimmings.

Upon arrival ladies were presented with attractive nose-gays.

COGGIN ADDRESSES ASHEBORO KIWANIS MEMBERS TUESDAY

Former Superior Court Judge Discusses Training Youth For Future

NEED RESPECT OF LAW

Charles L. Coggin, former superior court judge and former solicitor, addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night on the subject, "Training our Youth to Meet the Future." The speaker was presented by Paul Burke, program chairman.

While the doings of Stalin and other world leaders are broadcast and published throughout the world, the danger to Americans is not what someone else is doing, Mr. Coggin declared, the danger is what Americans are not doing.

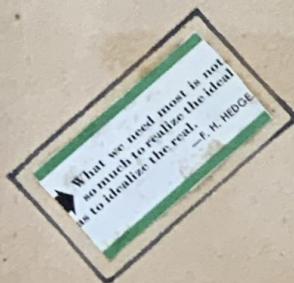

He stated that in training children, as in discharging civic duties, Americans display a great deal of carelessness. Children must be trained for citizenship and for the tasks of the future, he stated; they must be trained to accomplish the deeds that this generation has failed to accomplish.

Wholesome recreation with proper guidance, the speaker said, is the best method of building citizens. Pointing out that 35 per cent of crimes are committed by teen-agers, Mr. Coggin stated that children must be taught to respect the rights of others.

Obedience to laws is necessary for greatness, the speaker stated. He said early Americans obeyed the laws of God and nature and man-made laws, and consequently handed down a great heritage.

It was announced that Asheboro Kiwanians will conduct a broom sale February 22-25 for the benefit of the Guilford Industries for the Blind.

M. R. Shands, member of another Kiwanis club before moving to Asheboro, was presented as a visiting Kiwanian.

Textile Operations Of Europe Are Described

Malcolm E. Campbell, dean of the school of textiles at N. C. State College, told Asheboro Kiwanians Tuesday night of his recent tour through England, France and Switzerland.

The speaker was presented by Andy Rabb, program chairman or the week.

Mr. Campbell described textile plants of England and displayed some fine cotton yarns made here.

He said he had discussed England's socialized medicine with workers in the British textile plants. Workers in unprivileged classes praised the program highly and said they received medical attention they had not received previously, he related; but white collar workers and employers disregarded the program and had their own doctors, he stated.

Mr. Campbell said that a visitor in England could get free medical attention.

The speaker described the Swiss as the finest and cleverest people he had met. He found Swiss plants manufacturing textile machinery to be clean and well operated. Switzerland, which did not enter world war II, is spending its wartime and post-war profits on plants and equipment, he stated.

Perfect attendance pins were presented—as follows: Andy Rabb, 8 years, and Don Alexander, 7 years.

W. W. Adkins, vice president, presided in the absence of T. C. Hollingsworth, the president.

Lee J. Stone, Asheboro high school athletics director, was inducted by G. E. Miller as a new member.

Visitors were Ben Courtner and J. D. Fortenburt of Harborsburg, Miss., guests of Bill Williams; C. H. Craven, guest of his son, W. C. Craven; E. C. Brandon, with W. W. Adkins; Frank Barber with J. P. Davis; R. W. Hughes, with John Birkhead; and Charles Bossong, Mike Tuttle, Bob Bunker, Cleveland Thayer and H. E. Barlow, with Andy Rabb.

KIWANIANS PLAN MUSICAL PROGRAM

T. C. Hollingsworth, Club President, Will Speak On Broadcast

A half-hour musical program, tracing the 35-year history of Kiwanis International, will be presented by the Kiwanis club of Asheboro over radio station WGWR at 1:30 p. m. Friday, January 20.

Selections that have been long-time favorites, including a medley of state songs, will be sung by the famed Wichita Kiwanis chorus.

Brief speeches will be delivered by T. C. Hollingsworth, president of the Asheboro Kiwanis club, and J. Hugh Jackson of Stanford, Calif., president of Kiwanis International.

The program will be presented by WGWR as a public service in connection with the 35th anniversary of Kiwanis International, which will be observed by more than 3,000 clubs throughout the United States and Canada during the week of January 15 to 21.

KIWANIANS HEAR TALK ON DANGER OF COMMUNISM

Warns Americans To Be Vigilant To Preserve Traditional Ways

SEES FUTURE CONFLICT

Diek Douglas of Greensboro addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night, speaking on the subject of communism.

The speaker was introduced by Ottway Burton.

Mr. Douglas expressed the fear that at some future date communism and capitalism will meet head-on in a military conflict. He warned that meanwhile Americans should be vigilant to preserve their traditional and cherished way of life.

Main objectives of communism, he stated, are to abolish nationalism and religion.

"Communists will lie, cheat or murder to remove obstacles in their path," the speaker declared.

He said that many labor unions in the United States had been heavily infested with communists, but that in the past three years most of the unions have cleared their ranks of communists.

The method of communism, Mr. Douglas said, is to divide and conquer, so that a small number may rule.

E. N. Morgan was presented as a guest of John Williams.

▶ Let us discard all this quibbling about this man and the other man, this race and the other race being inferior and therefore they must be placed in an inferior position. Let us discard all these things, and unite as one people throughout this land, until we shall once more stand up declaring that all men are created equal. —ABRAHAM LINCOLN.

▶ Never throughout history has a man who lived a life of ease left a name worth remembering. —THEODORE ROOSEVELT.

▶ Mankind are very odd creatures: One half censure what they practice, the other half practice what they censure; the rest always say and do as they ought. —BENJAMIN FRANKLIN.

RECREATION IS NEEDED ALL YEAR, KIWANIANs TOLD

Older People Being Neglected, Speaker Says; Suggests Program

PROGRAM IS NECESSITY

Hubert Henderson, recreational director of Thomasville, addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night on "Municipal Recreation." He was presented by Odell Caloun, program chairman.

Recreation is fundamental, he said, and is necessary for building health and character and preventing crime.

"Summertime recreation is fine," the speaker said, "but to be successful a recreation program must be conducted all during the year."

To be successful, also, a municipal recreation program must serve all the people, Mr. Henderson stated.

"Youth is not the most neglected group," he said. "The most neglected are the aged people."

Recreation should be practiced by the entire family he said, adding, "A family that stays together, lives together."

Mr. Henderson suggested the following activities should be included in a year-round municipal recreation program, arts and crafts, well supervised dancing, dramatics, literary activities, music, an outdoor and nature program, social activities, sports and athletics.

CLASS-JOB PLAN FOR TEACHING IS SUBJECT OF TALK

Kiwanians Hear Mrs. Margaret Finch On Distributive Education

SAYS PLAN IS USEFUL

Mrs. Margaret Finch, coordinator of distributive education of the Greensboro city schools, addressed Asheboro Kiwanians Tuesday night on "Distributive Education."

The speaker was presented by W. C. Lucas.

Explaining distributive education, Mrs. Finch stated that pupils attend classes in the morning and work at jobs in the afternoon under sponsorship of the city school coordinator.

To participate in the program, she said, pupils must be at least 16 years of age and advanced as far as the 11th grade.

The program has proved valuable both to businesses and to the students, she said.

The speaker expressed the opinion that a person's worth in the vocational market depends both on one's knowledge and on ability to sell that

Students Speak To Kiwanis Club About Activities

Nineteen Clubs Are Explained During Program

Asheboro Kiwanians, at the club's weekly meeting Tuesday night, heard 19 Asheboro high school students discuss various school clubs and activity groups of which they are members.

The program was arranged by John Birkhead, Kiwanis program chairman for the week, and the students were presented by Hatcher P. Story, high school principal.

Talks about school clubs and activity groups were made by the following students, whose subjects are listed:

Lucy Laughlin, Music Appreciation club; Phil Morris, Reader's Digest club; Junior Seawell, Key club; Robert Cronk, Safety club; Marvin Galloway, Physic club; Elizabeth Brown, Chemistry club; Donald Moore, Photography club; Sue Dorsett, Commercial club; David Jarrell, Penmanship club; Charles Way, Sketch club; Doris Hoover, French club; Mary Ann Ledwell, Debate club; Betty Lane Humble, Future Homemakers of America; Dorothy Saunders, Library club; Harlan Creech, III, Boys' Chorus; Marcia Drake, Boosters' club; Peggy Lanier, Travel club; Jeanne Craven, Beta club; and Sarah Trollinger, Chapel Program club.

Eighty-five per cent of the students at Asheboro high school have voluntarily joined one or more of the clubs and activity groups, it was stated.

High school students present a radio broadcast from station WGWR Thursday at 5:15 to 5:30 p. m. It was announced, and general school activities are reviewed Sundays in a radio program from 5:35 to 4 p. m.

Harlan Creech, III, played a recording made by the boys' chorus for the Kiwanians. The students displayed a school projector donated by the P. T. A. and Coach Lee J. Stone presented a motion picture about basketball.

R. L. Reese and Rufus S. Clark, Jr., drew Kiwanis members for competing teams in the city-wide sale of brooms made by the blind. Kiwanians will conduct the broom sale in Asheboro February 22 through 25.

Joe Trogdon and Junior Seawell, members of the Key club at Asheboro high school, will be guests of the Kiwanis club at meetings for a month, it was announced.

HOOVER GROUP'S PLAN WOULD SAVE BILLIONS A YEAR

Average Taxpayer Would Save $100 Per Year, Kiwanians Are Told

REPORT ON BROOM SALE

If the recommendations of the Hoover Commission regarding economy in the U. S. federal government were adopted in full, it would mean a savings to American taxpayers of three to five billions of dollars every year. It would average savings of $100 per year to every taxpayer.

Those statements were made by Elton Edwards of Greensboro in an address before the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night on "Recommendations of the Hoover Commission."

Thad T. Moser of the Asheboro Junior Chamber of Commerce presented the speaker. J. R. Marlowe was the Kiwanis program chairman.

The speaker stated that Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson, following recommendations of the Hoover Commission in his department, is saving a billion dollars per year and in addition has achieved greater efficiency.

Much pressure is being applied to senators and congressmen to prevent enactment of the Hoover Commission's recommendations into law, the speaker declared. He urged that each voter write his congressman and both his senators urging passage of the recommendations.

ASHEBORO KIWANIS CLUB

Asheboro residents will have an opportunity to "help the blind help themselves" next week when the Asheboro Kiwanis club conducts a city-wide sale of brooms made by blind persons.

The brooms were manufactured at Guilford Industries for the Blind, a plant in Greensboro created to provide employment for the blind. All employees in the plant, except a manager and a bookkeeper, are blind, sponsors have announced.

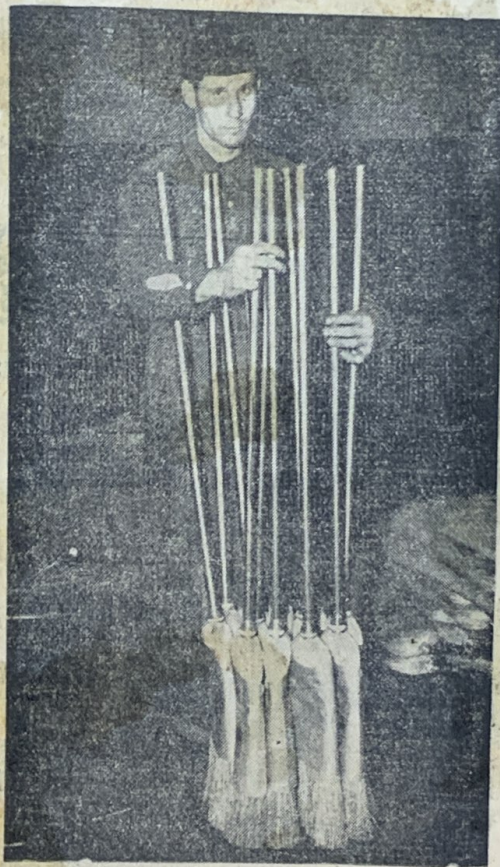

The manufacturing unit was created by public-spirited citizens of Greensboro who felt it better that blind persons be enabled to earn a living than to have them dependent upon charity.

One Randolph county man, Wade Vuncannon of Asheboro, route 3, is among the employees at Guilford Industries for the Blind.

Last year the Asheboro Kiwanis club's broom sale grossed $4,470 and created 1,350 man-hours of employment for the blind.

This year the Kiwanians are sponsoring another broom sale, to be conducted February 22 through 25, it is announced by J. Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman for the effort.

This year the Kiwanians will sell both brooms and mops made by the blind, conducting the sale on the streets and making a house-to-house canvass.

BROOMS MADE BY BLIND—Asheboro residents will be asked by members of the Kiwanis Club to buy one of these brooms manufactured in Guilford Industries for the Blind, when the Kiwanians stage their annual broom sale here Wednesday through Saturday, February, 22-25. Above an employee of the Greensboro plant, where blind persons are enabled to become self-supporting, displays some of the superior quality brooms.

Buy A Broom Or Mop And Help The Blind

"Buy a broom or a mop and help the blind," Asheboro Kiwanis club members are urging local residents on the streets and from door to door throughout the city.

The Kiwanians launched their annual broom sale yesterday, and through Saturday will sell brooms and mops made at Guilford Industries for the Blind, a manufacturing plant in Greensboro established and operated solely to enable blind persons to be self-supporting.

Last year the Asheboro Kiwanis club's broom sale grossed $4,470 and created 1,350 man-hours of employment for the blind. This week the club is striving to surpass that performance.

BLIND INDUSTRIES SPOKESMEN VISIT LOCAL KIWANIS

Asheboro Club Launches
City-Wide Sale, Continues Through Sat.

PLANNING SCOUT TRIP

Representatives of Gullford Industries for the Blind, Greensboro plant established and operated to provide employment for blind persons, presented the program at the Asheboro Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday night.

Wednesday the Kiwanians launched their city-wide sale of brooms and mops manufactured by blind persons. The sale will continue through Saturday on the streets in the Asheboro business section and room house to house throughout the city.

Roy Carr from the Greensboro plant told the Kiwanians that after the Kiwanis-sponsored sale here last March Asheboro held the record for the largest broom sale in the state until last August, when the record was beaten by High Point.

Mr. Carr was presented by C. Reitzel Smith.

Instrumental and vocal musical selections were provided by Ben Epps, Ezra McKinnon, Leon Austin, Wright Jones and Brady Jones, all of Gullford Industries for the Blind.

R. L. Reese and R. S. Clark, Jr., captains of two teams selling the brooms, gave instruction and exhortation to their teams of Kiwanians. The losing team will be host at a steak dinner, it was announced.

The Kiwanis club voted to send a boy from Boy Scout troop 555, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club, to the Boy Scout camporee at Valley Forge in the summer. The Scout in the troop who has the best record from now until the time of the camporee will make the trip, it was explained.

Two members of the Key club at Asheboro high school, Bobby Connell and Harrison Williams, were guests at the meeting.

Roy Swink of Shelby was a visiting Kiwanian.

1949 BROOM SALE IN ASHEBORO SET RECORD, CARR SAYS

Kiwanians Will Sell Brooms
Made By Blind Again
February 22-25

CLUB CONGRATULATED

The Asheboro Kiwanis club, which is preparing to conduct a sale of brooms made by the blind during the dates of February 22-25, set a record with its 1949 broom sale.

C. Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman for the project, made public this week a letter written by Roy E. Carr of Gullford Industries for the Blind to the Asheboro Kiwanians last year.

The Asheboro Kiwanians' sale of brooms here last year, which grossed $4,470 and created 1,350 man-hours of employment for blind persons, set a record that was unbroken for many months. It is understood that the record still stands for communities of comparable population with Asheboro.

Mr. Carr's letter to Asheboro Kiwanians follows:

July 5, 1949

Asheboro Kiwanis Club
Asheboro, North Carolina

Dear Club:

I am writing this letter to the club as a whole because by the work put forth by each and every one of you it is my pleasure to advise you that your Asheboro Kiwanis club set a record on the Blind Broom Sale that has not been equalled by any other Kiwanis, Lion, Rotary, Jaycee or any other group that has sponsored our sale. Your club holds the record and I might add that we have worked with many clubs in towns many times the population of Asheboro.

It is with a great deal of pleasure that I commend your fine club for this record unbroken now for several months. The friendly spirit and fellowship which is in the hearts of your members is an outstanding factor that contributed to the success of this program.

On behalf of the above Industries I wish to thank you again and by this means of communication make it known to your club that you are the undefeated champions.

Sincerely,
ROY E. CARR

City-Wide Broom Sale By Kiwanis Club This Week

Will Sell Brooms
Made By Blind
At Greensboro

Members of the Asheboro Kiwanis Club will conduct their annual sale of brooms made by the blind Wednesday through Saturday, Feb. 22-25.

The brooms were manufactured at Gullford Industries for the Blind, a plant in Greensboro established to provide employment for blind persons and operated on a non-profit basis.

Although they make a superior product, the blind employees of the plant would not be able to compete with sighted broom-makers in selling their product on the market if it were not for the assistance of civic organizations like the Asheboro Kiwanis club in conducting community broom sales, spokesmen for the plant have stated.

Kiwanians plan to sell the brooms and also mops made by blind employees in the Greensboro plant on the streets of Asheboro and in a house-to-house canvass, it is announced by C. Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman for the sale.

Last year the Asheboro Kiwanis Club's broom sale grossed $4,470 and provided 1,350 man-hours of employment for the blind.

Among employees of Gullford Industries for the Blind is a Randolph county man, Wade Vuncannon of Asheboro route 3.

Gullford Industries for the Blind was founded 15 years ago by a group of Greensboro citizens who believed it would be worth donating their time and some money to enable blind persons to become self-supporting instead of living on charity.

As a result, Gullford Industries for the Blind now operates in a new building at 830 West Lee street, Greensboro, built with proceeds from sale of their products.

The blind employees manufacture about 12,000 brooms and 12,000 mops per month. Paid on a piece-work basis, they earn an average of $35 per week, less than the pay of sighted workers in other plants but considerably above the $35 a month grant from the state they would have to live on if they were not employed.

The plant has a recreation room where the employees can relax in their spare time, and the morale of the employees is reported to be high.

The blind employees have developed their independence to the point that they make their way to the plant from their homes in various parts of Greensboro.

The Asheboro Kiwanis club members sold $2,287.10 worth of brooms and mats made at Gullford Industries for the Blind during the city-wide sale last week, it was announced by W. C. Drake.

KEY CLUB SELECTS NEW MEMBERS

Asheboro High School Club Taps Ten More Juniors And Seniors

The Key club of Asheboro high school recently tapped new members from the sophomore and junior classes.

Those receiving the honor were Wayne Cheek, Benny Partman, Thomas McElhannon, Richard McKellar, Jimmy Moore, E. C. Morgan, Jr., Norman Ray Nance, Dickie Renigar, Rom Story and Scotty Thomas.

The new members, having met scholarship requirements, were selected on a basis of citizenship and service to the school.

The Key club, whose motto is "Service," is an international organization sponsored by the Kiwanis club. Asheboro's Key club has been organized for three years and has been one of the most active clubs in the high school.

Among past projects of the Key club are washing windows, furnishing impromptu seats in the movie projection room, awarding a $50 scholarship to a deserving senior, sponsoring dances, selling popcorn at high school football games, selling pencils, helping the Kiwanis club at horse shows, and helping raise funds for school projects.

KIWANIANS PLAN DISTRICT SESSION AT WINSTON-SALEM

Members Of Asheboro Club Plan To Attend Meeting April 13

PLAN FOR HORSE SHOW

A Kiwanis district meeting will be held Thursday, April 13, at Winston-Salem, it was announced by T. C. Hollingsworth, president of the Asheboro Kiwanis club.

He stated that transportation to the meeting will be furnished, leaving from the Asheboro bus station at 5:30 p. m.

A golf tournament will be conducted in Winston-Salem for members who wish to enter during the afternoon, he stated.

The Asheboro Kiwanians voted to cancel their regular meeting scheduled for April 11. Reports were made at the meeting this week by committees working on the 10th annual Kiwanis horse show to be held here Easter Monday, April 10.

Jack Pugh, chairman of entries, announced that entries are being received in greater numbers than last year.

Frank Cole and Sammy Clodfelter, members of the high school Key club, were visitors. Pete Warren of Greensboro was a guest of Jack Pugh.

BOSTON LACKEY KIWANIS SPEAKER

"Reflections On Life In America Today" Subject Of His Talk

Rev. Boston Lackey, pastor of the Church of the Good Shepherd, addressed the Kiwanis club at its regular weekly meeting Tuesday evening at the Kiwanis Teen-Age building.

Rev. Mr. Lackey, introduced by Jack Fetner, program chairman for the week, centered his talk around "Just Made Some Reflections on Life in America Today." He stated that we have advanced a long way in literature and knowledge but have not learned how to get along with people.

People living in this country have more of everything, and yet we find a lot of unhappiness today. We have the wrong attitude towards work. People should live to work not work to live. If we work for monetary reasons only we take the dignity out of working, said the speaker.

Our economy has been built around waste; for instance, waste of tin cans, paper, electrical power and clothing. Clothes changing in far away Paris will make a whole wardrobe obsolete in this country. We have made ourselves slaves to waste. We must learn to think about deep things to be able to enjoy the things God has given us, stated Rev. Mr. Lackey.

Jack Pugh, director of the Kiwanis horse show, announced that plans were being completed for the annual show which will be held here on Easter Monday, April 10.

Garland Pritchard was awarded a perfect attendance pin for one year; Dal Rich was awarded a pin for five years and Walter Craven was awarded one for nine years.

Do men gather grapes of thorns or figs of thistles? Even so every good tree bringeth forth good fruit but a corrupt tree bringeth forth evil fruit. A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire. Wherefore by their fruits ye shall know them. —MATTHEW 7:16-20.

ASHEBORO KIWANIS CLUB PLANS OUT OF TOWN MEETING

Go To Winston-Salem On April 13 And Will Meet At Farmer May 2

PLAN BIG HORSE SHOW

Members of the Asheboro Kiwanis club plan to attend a district meeting in Winston-Salem April 13, it was announced at the club's meeting this week.

Local Kiwanians will travel by bus, leaving the bus station at 5 p. m.

The Asheboro club members plan to hold their May 2 meeting at Farmer, where a dinner will be served by ladies of the Farmer Grange.

T. C. Hollingsworth, Kiwanis club president, announced that 124 entries had been received for the Easter Monday horse show to be held here Monday, April 10.

Clarence Feemster, program chairman for the week, presented J. R. Marlowe, who showed a motion picture.

Joe Cagle was presented a pin for five years of perfect attendance.

Visitors were Judge Frank M. Armstrong, with S. W. Burrow, and Vance Welborn, R. E. Kizer, H. W. Boxley, Harry E. Barlow, Emerson Whatley and Cliff Baker, with J. R. Marlowe.

KIWANIANS GOING TO MIAMI SESSION

T. C. Hollingsworth And W. W. Adkins Will Represent Asheboro

Business and professional leaders, representing large cities and small towns in every section of the United States and Canada, today were preparing to leave for Miami to attend the 35th annual convention of Kiwanis International.

The southern resort city will become the capital of the community service organization from May 7 to 11 when 10,000 Kiwanians assemble for a five-day series of meetings that will feature nine internationally known speakers from the fields of government, business, religion, and education.

Captain E. V. Rickenbacker, president of Eastern Air Lines and world war I flying ace, is the newest addition to the speaking program, according to an announcement today from the Chicago headquarters of Kiwanis International. Rickenbacker, it was learned, will discuss America's domestic situation.

T. C. Hollingsworth, president of the Kiwanis club of Asheboro, said the delegation to converge upon Miami for the convention will represent a majority of the 3,100 Kiwanis clubs in this country and Canada.

Delegates who will represent the Asheboro Kiwanis club at the Miami convention will include President Hollingsworth and Vice President W. W. Adkins.

KIWANIANS PLAN MIAMI CONVENTION

Hollingsworth and Adkins Are Named Delegates From Local Club

Combining an outstanding speaking program with the foremost in entertainment, Kiwanis International is injecting all of the color of a Broadway spectacle into the plans covering its 35th annual convention, May 7 to 11, at Miami.

T. C. Hollingsworth, president of the Kiwanis club of Asheboro, said today that reports from the southern resort city indicate that the organization's 1950 meeting will be "superb from the standpoint of sheer brilliance and 'big name' talent."

A majority of Kiwanis International's 3,100 clubs throughout the United States, Canada, Alaska, Hawaii and the Yukon Territory will be represented at the convention and assembly for the five-day assembly is expected to approximate 10,000, Mr. Hollingsworth said.

One of the many highlights of the convention program will be the traditional "Main Feature Entertainment" Wednesday evening, May 10. This outdoor pageant will be held in the famed Orange Bowl, bringing together many of the south's most spectacular bands and drill teams. The production will be climaxed with a stunt-thrill exhibition and probably a gigantic fireworks display.

Delegates named by the Asheboro Kiwanis club to attend the convention at Miami are T. C. Hollingsworth, president, and W. W. Adkins, vice president.

Kiwanians Plan 10th Horse Show Easter Monday

Proceeds Again Will Support Club Charities

Preparations are progressing rapidly for the Asheboro Kiwanis club's 10th annual Easter Monday horse show, to be held April 10 at the old fair grounds south of town.

Proceeds from the horse show will again go to support club charities, it is announced by C. Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman.

The past nine annual Easter Monday horse shows sponsored by the Asheboro Kiwanians, he said, have provided:

An iron lung for a polio victim.

Glasses for 128 school children.

Lunches and milk for great numbers of other school children.

Operations for crossed eyes and harelips.

A farm women's curb market building.

Donations totaling approximately $25,000 toward the Memorial Foundation swimming pool.

Construction of a $35,000 Teen-Age building which, he added, "it is hoped the profits of this year's show will clear of debt."

A success otherwise than financially, the Asheboro Kiwanis horse show in past years has been voted by the American Horseman's Association twice as "one of the most outstanding one-day horse shows in the south," sponsors state.

"In no past year has exhibitor interest been running so high," says Jack Pugh, chairman of entries. "Already a number of exhibitors have entered," he said, "and we have stables represented from as far away as Miami."

T. C. Hollingsworth, president of the Kiwanis club, is ex-officio president of the horse show and the entire membership of the Kiwanis club is working on the event.

This year the Asheboro Business and Professional Women's club is operating the horse show concessions.

Spectators desiring box seats are advised by Bub Burkhead, chairman of the box seat sale, that in the past demand has exceeded the supply and that reservations should be made early.

NAME OFFICIALS FOR HORSE SHOW HERE EASTER MON.

Well Known Authorities
Will Serve As Judges In Kiwanis Event

FAIRGROUNDS APRIL 10

Officials and judges for the 10th annual Asheboro Kiwanis Easter Monday Horse Show have been announced by T. C. Hollingsworth, club president.

The 1950 show will be held at the fairgrounds south of town April 10, with programs starting at 1:30 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Lloyd Tate of Pinehurst will be judge of hunters and jumpers.

Forest Ward of Charlottesville, Va., will be judge of gaited horses.

Lillard Smotherman of Rockvale, Tennessee, will judge walking horses.

Col. Jimmy Seashole of Atlanta, Ga., will serve as master of ceremonies for the show again this year. Col. Seashole presided last year and was one of the most popular masters of ceremonies since the event was organized, sponsors state.

The ringmaster this year will be Lee J. Stone, Asheboro high school athletics director.

Proceeds from all sources, including horse show gate receipts, concessions and program advertisements, will go to Kiwanis club charities, it is announced by Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman.

He stated that box seats are expected to be in great demand, and that reservations may be made with Bub Burkhead, box seat chairman.

Kiwanians' Horse Show Anticipated Biggest To Date

Events Begin
At 1 And 8 P. M.
South Of Town

The Asheboro Kiwanis club's 10th annual Easter Monday horse show, which begins at 1 p. m., today at the fairgrounds south of town, will undoubtedly be the biggest event of its kind ever held here, Kiwanians said Saturday.

Jack Bulla, show director, said around 130 entries were listed Saturday. In previous shows, it was stated, the entry list has never totaled more than 108 prior to show time.

Afternoon events, scheduled earlier than planned because of the large number of entries, will begin at 1 p. m. An evening program of events, including championship classes, will begin at 8 p. m.

Some of the finest horses in the south have been entered, the director stated, with entries listed from as far as New Jersey and Florida. Numbers of entries are listed from Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina.

The record list of entries bids fair to overflow the stall facilities at the fairgrounds, and Kiwanians have borrowed 20 portable stalls from Greensboro.

Promoting the horse show by newspaper, radio and television, the hustling Asheboro Kiwanis club members scheduled a 20-minute television show from Greensboro Friday night. Participating in the program were T. C. Hollingsworth, club president; Lee Stone, ringmaster; and Jack Bulla, show director.

Asheboro Club Plans Benefit Horse Show

ASHEBORO, March 27.—The Asheboro Kiwanis Club will hold its 10th annual Easter Monday Horse Show at the fairgrounds south of town April 10, it was announced today by Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman.

The horse show, with an afternoon and an evening program of events, will be conducted by local Kiwanians for the benefit of club charities.

Proceeds of the past nine shows, Smith stated, have provided an iron lung for a polio victim, purchased glasses for 128 school children and provided lunches and milk for many others, have paid for operations for physically handicapped children, built a farm women's curb market building, raised approximately $25,000 for the local Memorial Foundation swimming pool and provided a substantial sum of money toward a Kiwanis Teen-Age building.

Jack Pugh, chairman of entries, reports, "In no past year has exhibitor interest been running so high. A number of new exhibitors have entered and we already have entries from stables as far away as Miami, Fla."

Judges Appointed For Horse Show

ASHEBORO, April 1.—Judges for the 10th annual Easter Monday Horse Show to be sponsored by the Asheboro Kiwanis Club have been announced by T. C. Hollingsworth, club president.

They will be Lloyd Tate of Pinehurst, judge of hunters and jumpers; Forrest Ward of Charlottesville, Va., judge of gaited horses; and Lillard Smotherman of Rockvale, Tenn., judge of walking horses.

Col. Jimmy Seashole of Atlanta, Ga., will be master of ceremonies, and Lee J. Stone of Asheboro will be ringmaster.

The horse show, a charity benefit event, will be conducted at the fairgrounds south of Asheboro April 10 with programs of events beginning at 1:30 p. m. and 8 p. m.

Entries In Horse Show Coming In At Record Rate

Afternoon Time Has Been Moved Up To 1 o'Clock

Entries for the 10th annual Easter Monday Horse Show to be held here April 10 by the Asheboro Kiwanis Club are coming in faster than during previous year since the show was begun, it is announced by Jack Pugh, chairman of entries.

A total of 120 horses had been entered in the show up to Tuesday morning, he said, and more entries were arriving in every mail. At a comparable time last year 108 entries had been received.

Entries for this year's show include some of the finest and most outstanding horses ever to show here, he added.

The large number of horses to be shown has necessitated a change in the time of beginning the afternoon performance, it is announced by C. Reitzel Smith, publicity chairman. The afternoon performance will begin at 1 o'clock, he stated, instead of 1:30 announced on the printed program.

The evening performance will begin at 8 o'clock, as scheduled.

The Easter Monday Horse Show on April 10 will be held again this year at the fairgrounds, one mile south of Asheboro.

The rapid influx of entries has the Kiwanians hustling to handle another problem, the matter of providing sufficient stable space. Arrangements are being made, Mr. Smith stated, for additional stable space at the grounds.

The record influx of entries is evidenced in practically all classes in the horse show, it is announced. For instance, in the fine harness class, usually considered one of the highlights of the show from the spectator's point of view, enough entries have already been received to require two showings in that event, Kiwanians stated Tuesday.

The large number of exhibitors has already been reflected in heavy reservations of box seats, Mr. Smith stated. He advised that local spectators who are interested in obtaining box seats make the reservations immediately with Bub Burkhead, chairman of box seats.

A barbecue for exhibitors will be given between the shows at the Kiwanis Teen Age building in Asheboro, it is announced.

To winners in the horse show the Asheboro Kiwanis club will award cash prizes totaling $2,500, plus a number of trophies.

Event Here Is Biggest In 10 Years

Fine horses from Florida, Tennessee, North Carolina and South Carolina, Virginia and New Jersey displayed their gaits and took the jumps before the judges here Monday in the Asheboro Kiwanis club's 10th annual Easter Monday horse show.

The 130 horses actually shown represented the largest number and included some of the finest animals ever exhibited here, said Jack Pugh, horse show director. Displaying the same zeal that characterized the entire Kiwanis membership in staging the event, Director Pugh turned out for a full day of duty at the show after undergoing an appendectomy six days earlier.

John L. Bowers, widely known manager of horse shows, said during the show, "The official horse show season opens right here in Asheboro now." He referred to the increasing custom of exhibitors to begin their tour of competitions at the Easter Monday show here.

A crowd estimated at 6,500 witnessed the show during the afternoon and night programs. Spotchecking a section of the parking lot, a reporter saw in the space of a couple of minutes license plates from South Carolina, Tennessee, District of Columbia and Ontario, Canada.

FINE WEATHER

Once again the weather man favored the Kiwanians with his blessings. Overcast at the start, the sky cleared to a golden late afternoon. It was pleasantly cool during the afternoon and early evening, becoming admittedly chilly as the night events progressed.

Showing and judging the record number of entries prolonged the show with the result that midnight passed before the five-gaited championship event was over. The interesting number and quality of entries have started Kiwanians to thinking about an expanded schedule, with the possibility that a morning program of events may be added at next year's show.

Col. Jimmy Seashole of Atlanta, master of ceremonies for the show, was in fine fettle as usual. To his competent announcing of the events he added a roguish banter that the spectators loved. Typically strolling through the stands with his microphone, Col. Seashole asked one Asheboro girl, "Is this your boy friend with you?" (She said, "No.") Another typical effusion, as he interviewed a couple of newlyweds, was his remark to the bride, "You're a beauty. You really are."

He asked a Mr. Richardson from Star what he especially liked to see in the horse show. Mr. Richardson's reply was quick and emphatic: "Some of that racking and some of those roadster classes . . . Some speed."

Col. Seashole also interviewed Grady Caviness of Seagrove, route 1, Jimmy Webb and Ed Miller, Asheboro Kiwanians, Gus Holmes of Asheboro and little Ruth Ann Brown of Asheboro, route 4.

Among the dignitaries the master of ceremonies recognized in the stands were Congressman Harold D. Cooley of Nashville, Judge Frank M. Armstrong of Troy, Former Judge Charles Coggins of Salisbury, Solicitor John McLaughlin of Statesville, Zeb Morris of Concord, candidate for solicitor, and Waldo C. Cheek of Asheboro and Raleigh, state insurance commissioner.

Judges were Forrest L. Ward of Charlottesville, Va., gaited horses; Lillard Smotherman of Rockvale, Tenn., walking horses, and Lloyd Tate of Pinehurst, hunters and jumpers.

Judge Tate, commenting on the jumping exhibitions in which close competition and frequent ties necessitated jump-offs, declared, "That's as good as you will see anywhere." Several of the horses and riders have competed, he said, in Madison Square Garden, New York City.

Lee Stone of Asheboro served as ring master. Presenting the ribbons to winners were three young ladies from Asheboro high school, selected by the Key club: Miss Doris Hoover, Miss Marcella Drake and Miss Paddi Koonce.

CHAMPIONSHIPS

Winners in the evening events follow:

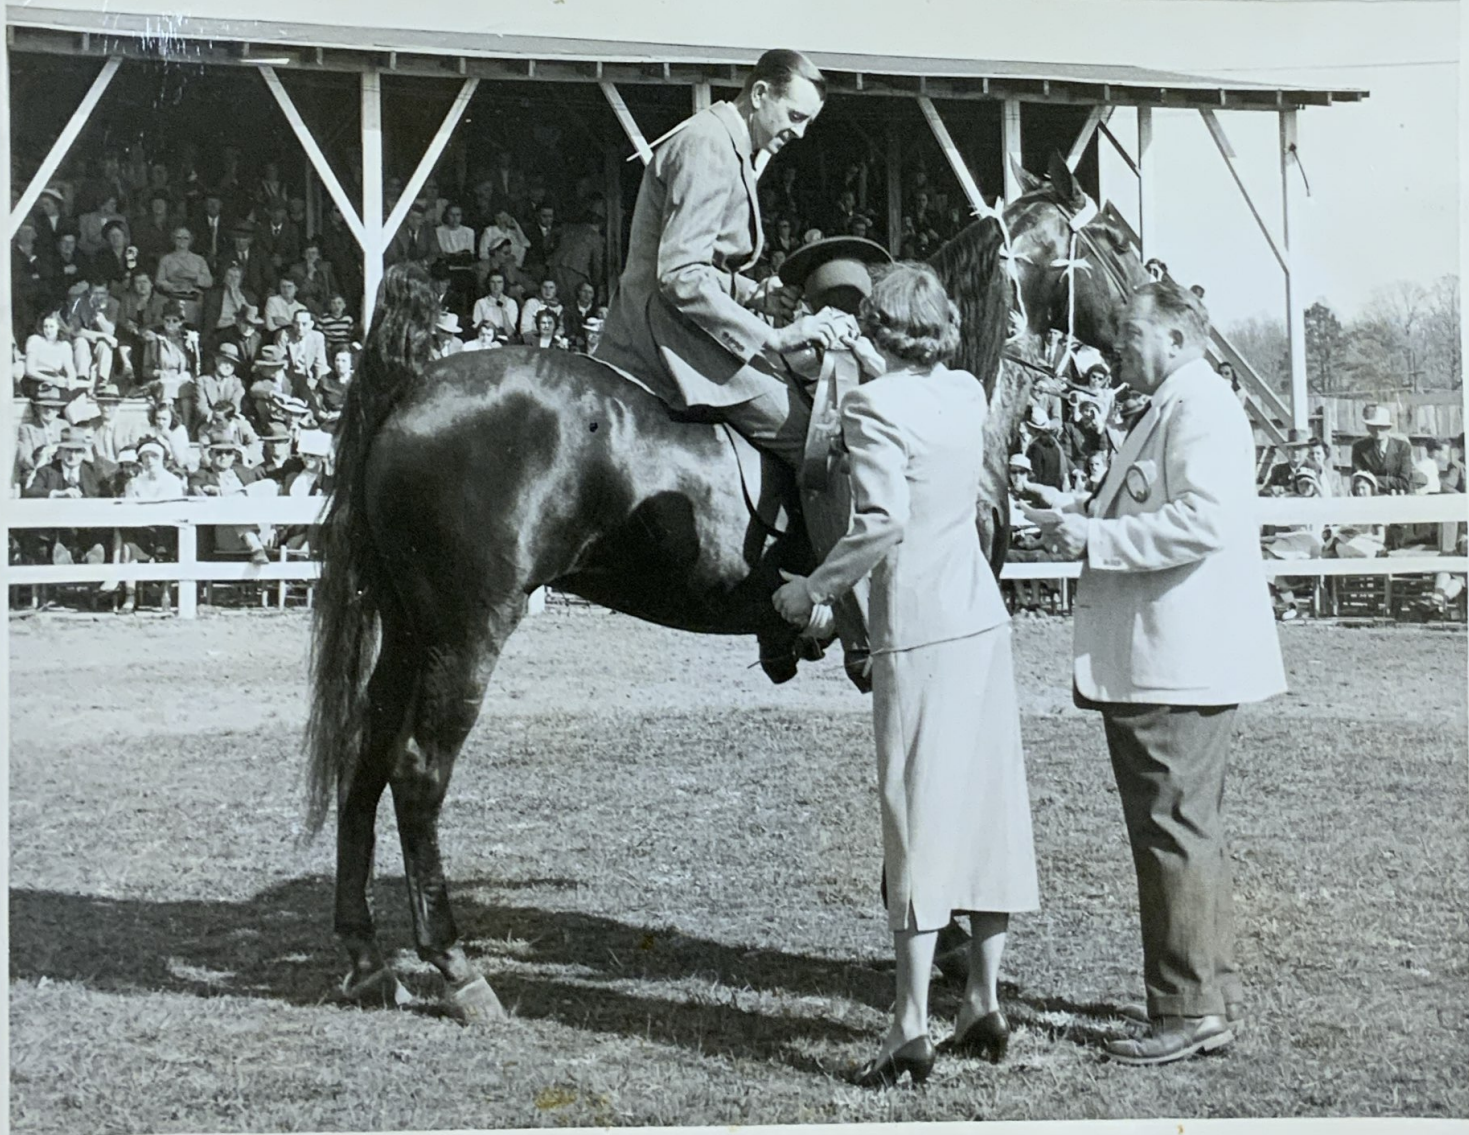

Five-gaited championship (Hollingsworth Jewelry Co. trophy and $500 in prizes)—first place, Midnight Al, M. J. Hoyer of Wilmington, owner; Maddux Whitley up; second place, Highland Empire, M. J. Hoyer, owner; Ray Horney up; third place,

TO PERFORM AT HORSE SHOW—The highlight of the Asheboro Kiwanis club for the kids will be the lively ponies that comprise the Curtiss Candy Company Six Pony Hitch and will be seen for a few galloping minutes at each performance.

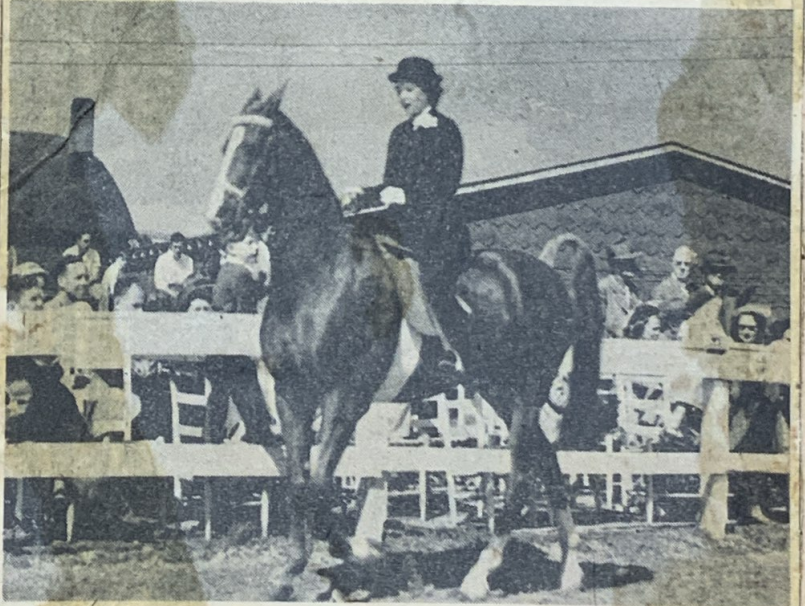

These ponies, explains Bart Hess, driver, are named after Walt Disney's seven dwarfs: Grumpy, Dopey, Sleepy, Happy, Bashful and Sneezy. The seventh pony is a spare.

The ponies pull a snow white, sealed down, wagon, trimmed in chrome from top to bottom, using miniature harness with gleaming patent leather and chrome trimming.

Sharp turns and figure eights at breakneck speed are done with ease under the clever handling of the experienced driver.

KIWANIS HORSE SHOW SCENE—The old fair grounds south of Asheboro will again be the scene of an Asheboro Kiwanis horse show, the 10th annual event of its type, on Easter Monday, April 10. In this scene from last year's show Jimmy Seashole of Atlanta, Ga., master of ceremonies who will officiate again this year, presents a first place ribbon to Miss Frances Long of Newton up on Really Different.

KIWANIANS ENJOY MUSICAL PROGRAM AT LADIES NIGHT

Greensboro Music Students
Sing And Play At Asheboro Dinner

SELECTIONS ARE VARIED

Walter Vassar, director of Vassar Music Studios in Greensboro, presented a number of his students in a musical program Tuesday night at the Asheboro Kiwanis club's ladies night gathering.

Dr. W. E. Woodruff, program chairman, introduced Mr. Vassar, who served as master of ceremonies during a musical program, which included vocal and piano solos and choral selections.

Miss Jean Elphand sang "Let My Song Fill Your Heart." A chorus sang sacred selections and Mrs. Marie C. Waynick sang "Because." Miss Grace Little played three solos, among them Rachmanoff's "Prelude in C Sharp Minor."

The chorus sang three selections in a lighter vein. Sidney South sang "Ole Man River" as a solo. The group sang two numbers, "One Alone" and "Sit Down Servant."

Mr. Vassar presented two vocal solos, "Home on the Range" and "Hills of Home."

It seems as if we kept part of that happiness which we gave away.

Kiwanis Club Nearly Stages Riot

The Asheboro Kiwanis club nearly had a riot at its meeting Tuesday night in the Kiwanis Teen Age building.

G. E. Miller, program chairman, announced that he had secured as speaker a man named Igor Malinski, a Russian engineer whom he had met in Paris four years ago. The speaker's topic was announced as "The New Order of Things to Come."

A foreign-looking man dressed in evening clothes and bedecked with medals arose and began to speak. From his opening remarks, there was a tense silence in the room.

The man introduced as Malinski commented contemptuously on the size of the audience and on the fact that calling the police and some-the Kiwanians were not in evening dress, as he was. Then he sallied into a bitter tirade of criticism directed at capitalism, economic organization, industrial policies, and national, state and local governments in this country.

The Kiwanians, as they listened, got redder and redder and madder and madder.

Finally, as the speaker was engaged in a vicious attack on the veterans organizations in America, Kiwanian H. D. (Tip) Chisholm jumped up, pounded his fist on the table and shouted, "I'm not going to listen to any more of this."

Andy Rabb and others jumped up too, voicing angry protests. Somebody suggesting body else proposed piling on the speaker en masse.

A couple of club members, though also mad, spoke in favor of the speaker's right to be heard.

Two or three Kiwanians stalked out the door fuming, and were gone before anyone could convince them the speaker was putting on an act.

After some persuasion by Dr. W. E. Woodruff and Program Chairman Miller, the club simmered down and the speaker said, "My fellow countrymen, in some countries a speech like this is made and cheered by those who hear it, and I commend you gentlemen for rising up against this speaker."

Then the speaker, whose real name is L. L. Tocce of Winston-Salem, reviewed the history and heritage of the United States, of which American citizens are justifiably proud.

The speaker apologized for making critical remarks about United States government leaders and organizations, and peace was restored—except possibly among the Kiwanians who had become so mad they left in a huff before learning of the deception.

At the meeting, Dr. Frank Edmondson announced definite arrangements have been made for a state vs. Carolina freshman football squad to be held in Asheboro next fall under sponsorship of the Asheboro Kiwanis club.

Perfect attendance pins were awarded to Kiwanians as follows: Waldo Durham, one year; Clyde Burkhead, two years; and W. I. Burrows, four years. Visitors were Thad T. Moser, with G. E. Miller, and Finley Stewart, with J. P. Davis.

KIWANIANS HEAR HUMOROUS ADDRESS

No Dinner Meeting Of Kiwanis Scheduled For Night Of Fourth

Listing the kinds of worry a man has to face and then showing by humorous anecdotes that they are not so serious after all, Art Kelly of Charlotte addressed the Kiwanis club at their meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Allen was introduced by Joe Allen, program chairman. Guests at the meeting included Bruce Peabody with Jack Fetner, Oscar Swanson with William Thomas.

It was announced that next Tuesday night, July 4, will consist of a round table discussion at the usual meeting time, but there will be no dinner meeting.

Kiwanians Enjoy Farmer Grange Supper Meeting

Asheboro Kiwanians feasted Tuesday night on a home-cooked supper served by ladies of the Farmer Grange, meeting in the Farmer Grange hall.

In lieu of a formal program, chairmen of the Kiwanis committees for the 1950 Easter Monday horse show reported on the show, stating that the success of the event was gratifying.

TALK ON JAPANESE GIVEN TO KIWANIS

Veteran Of Four Years Occupation Duty Speaks
At Dinner Meet

A veteran of four years service with occupation troops in Japan, James Malony, local resident, addressed the Kiwanis club at their dinner meeting Tuesday night, on, "Japan, Our Future Ally".

Program chairman of the meeting was Bill Hayworth, who introduced Mr. Malony. Thad Hunt with John Hadley was a guest at the meeting.

Stating that if there should be a third world conflict, Mr. Malony was of the opinion that Germany and Japan would both be out allies. He then presented a graphic picture of the Japanese people and society.

The Japanese people, before the war were divided into three class, agricultural—the farmer; middle class—the merchants; and the war group. Common people in Japan have only a thin veneer of civilization, he said.

There are several religions in Japan, and some of them resemble ours in some instances. Only about five per cent of the people belong to the Christian religion, Mr. Malony declared.

He gave for his reason that Communism would not progress in Japan by pointing out that the farmers in that country own small plots of land. When the Communists preach the doctrine of the division of land, the farmer reason that the plots are so small that they could not be divided, and thus the Communist doctrine does not take well with them.

Mr. Malony said, in his opinion, Gen. Douglas MacArthur is the best man, for the occupation head in Japan, than any other man in the United States, and that the Japanese have a great admiration for him.

PACIFIC WAR FILMS ARE SHOWN KIWANIS

Perfect Attendance Pins
Awarded To Six Members At Weekly Meet

Two films on the conduct of the war in the Pacific during world war II were shown the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night. Perfect attendance pins were also awarded to six men.

C. C. Presnell, program chairman, introduced S/Sgt. N. G. Dean, Air Force and Army recruiter for the Asheboro area. Sgt. Dean presented the films entitled "Attack in the Pacific."

Pins were awarded to John Hadley for ten years perfect attendance; J. T. Allen, Emmett Pritchard, and Garland Allen eight years; Guy Teachey four years; and T. J. Robinson for two years perfect attendance.

Jimmy Webb announced at the meeting that the club will have its first practice Friday, at 6 p. m. at Lindley field, for the annual Rotary-Kiwanis-Lions softball game. The date of the game will be announced later.

Tickets to the UNC-N. C. State freshman football game to be held here on October 5 were distributed to the members. Different committees for the game were also appointed.

KIWANIANS HEAR AIRLINE PRESIDENT

R. D. Hodges Of Piedmont
Airlines Speaks On Air
Transportation

Speaking on air transportation, R. D. Hodges, president of Piedmont Airlines, of Winston-Salem addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club at their dinner meeting Tuesday night.

Mr. Hodges told Kiwanians that air transportation is vital to the progress of all nations. He said that the first extensive use of planes was during the first world war. Mail was first carried by planes in 1918.

Citing the growth of air transportation Mr. Hodges pointed out that in 1928 planes carried 48,000 passengers, in 1938 a million passengers, and in 1948 16 million passengers.

To cite the safety of airlines Mr. Hodges pointed out that a passenger can obtain a $5,000 life insurance policy for 25 cents at any airport. He went on further to state that the accident rates of commercial airlines schedules has been 1.3 deaths per 100 million miles of flying, and he stated that he thought that the auto rate was 3.2 deaths.

Mr. Hodges gave a brief picture of Piedmont Airlines since it was founded in 1943. The line operates in seven states on an east to west route. Their planes go from North Carolina to Ohio.

POST OFFICE FACTS GIVEN TO KIWANIS

Members Of Local Post Office Staff Tell About Work

Facts and figures on the operation and work of the Post Office were given the members of the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night by various members of the staff at the Asheboro Post Office.

Guests at the meeting were T. W. Metcalf, with Norval Toepfer, and Dr. Hubbard with Dr. I. Q. Dorsett. Program chairmen were Walter Craven and Sam Burrow.

Mr. Craven introduced J. C. Senter, a member of the Post Office staff, who spoke on the operation of the Post Office. Mr. Senter pointed out that the receipts of the post office had jumped from $35,706.68 in 1935 to $183,622.64 in 1949. Through Aug. 26 of this year the receipts of the department are $12,002.13 more than those at the same period a year ago.

Fred Kearns was the next speaker, and he told the club of his inspection and handling of the mail. He said that there are four city routes in Asheboro, and along with the North Asheboro station the department serves 18,000 persons.

Cecil Story gave some facts on working the mail and parcel post. Mrs. Bess Finch gave some facts to the club on money orders and postal notes.

Different parts of the report on the Post Office for 1949 pointed out that during the last year 29,720 money orders were issued, 17,225 postal notes were issued, there were 34,176 parcels insured, and 2,136,507 letters went through the cancelling machine. The pay roll for the fiscal year was $108,629.77.

"Somebody called Postmaster Walter C. Craven on the telephone the other day and demanded, 'Can I get a letter down to Wilson today?'"

"Not unless you carry it yourself," the postmaster replied.

The caller ripped out some angry retort and slammed the receiver down.

Well, that's all right so far, but when the postmaster told me about the incident he asked, 'Did you call me the other day?' I told him I hadn't. Then he said, 'Well, I thought sure that was you. Sounded just like your voice.'

Aw, now Postmaster . . .

DR. DENNIS COOKE ADDRESSES LOCAL KIWANIS TUESDAY

Says High Education Brings High Living Standard And Income

RELIGION BEST BASIS

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, president of High Point College, addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night on the subject of education.

J. P. Davis, program chairman for the week, presented L. F. Ross, chairman of the board of trustees of High Point College, who introduced Dr. Cooke.

"Where you find a high level of education, you find a high standard of living and income," Dr. Cooke stated. He cited the examples of various countries in the world illustrating the principle at both extremes.

High level of education, the speaker said, increases consumption and builds business. The United States, he said, has a high level of education and income, except in spots.

Saying consumption of electricity determines the standard of living of the people, the speaker stated that the United States stands at the top in electric power consumption.

Education, he said, must be built on principles of religion in order to build character and to build permanent communities.

T. C. Hollingsworth, Kiwanis club president, reported on the Kiwanis national convention held at Miami, Fla.

Guests were Dr. S. W. Taylor and Dr. J. E. Pritchard, guests of G. P. Pritchard, and L. F. Ross, guest of J. P. Davis.

KIWANIANS HEAR PSYCHOLOGIST ON PERSONALITY

Dr. J. C. Currin Of New York Says Personality Is Important

SAYS PRAYER POTENT

Dr. J. C. Currin of New York City, physician and psychologist, addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night on "Personality."

The psychologist, instead of eating supper, spent the time scrutinizing the faces of Kiwanians, possibly analyzing their personalities.

"Don't be too hasty in judging your neighbors," he stated. "Greet a man with a smile and he will return a smile."

Dr. Currin listed as "our greatest institutions": first, the church; second, the press; third, the banker; fourth, the school; and fifth, the home.

Paying a tribute to mothers and wives, the psychologist advised that the best way to get along with "the little woman" is to maintain a "50-50" relationship in approaching all problems.

Dr. Currin declared in conclusion, "I am a great believer in prayer, and I believe that with prayer and with the proper endeavor man can accomplish anything he desires."

Don C. Alexander, program chairman for the week, introduced the speaker.

T. C. Hollingsworth and W. W. Adkins, president and vice president of the club, made reports on the international Kiwanis convention held recently in Miami.

Guests were Hatcher P. Story, guest of Lee J. Stone, and E. D. Carr, guest of Eugene Williamson.

SPEAKER DEPLORES GOVERNMENT ENTRY INTO BUSINESSES

Carolina Power And Light
Sales Manager Addresses
Kiwans Club

WARNS OF SOCIALISM

Asheboro Kiwanians, at their regular weekly meeting Tuesday night, heard an address by E. N. Pope of Raleigh, manager of the sales department of the Carolina Power and Light Company.

Condemning the expansion of federal government ventures into business, Mr. Pope declared that the U. S. national debt is greater today than it was at the end of world war II. "Some of this money was spent on things we did not need," he said.

The speaker stated that the federal government is in more than 100 different businesses, at a cost to the government of 30 million dollars per year.

"Our greatest achievements have come under private ownership of business," Mr. Pope said, appealing for continuation of that system.

Citing the increasing socialization of Great Britain, with accompanying difficulties and suffering, he declared that in all nations which have followed communistic trends, the citizens have become slaves.

He added a warning that a nation which becomes soft doesn't stand a chance of survival in the present world.

The speaker was presented by T. J. Robinson, program chairman for the week.

BIDDLE ADDRESSES LOCAL KIWANIS

Discusses Architecture; Club
To Meet In Farmer
Tuesday Night

Ronald Biddle, program chairman for the week, discussed the profession of architecture at the Asheboro Kiwanis club meeting Tuesday night.

He explained that an architect adapts sound and efficient building principles to meet a client's individual preferences and needs. The architect prepares plans, estimates costs, suggests materials and checks construction until the building is completed, he stated.

The Kiwanis club will go to Farmer Tuesday night to hold the regular meeting in the Farmer Grange building, it was announced.

JUDGE A. I. FERREE ADDRESS KIWANIS

Finley Stewart Inducted Into Membership At
Weekly Meeting

Stating that we have been privileged to live in the most fruitful period of world history, Judge A. I. Ferree, local attorney, addressed the Kiwanis club at their meeting Tuesday night. Judge Ferree was introduced by program chairman Garland Pritchard.

President Ed. Miller inducted Finley Stewart as a new member of the club. In his remark Mr. Miller said that the Kiwanis was a service club, and by service to the community they were rendering a service to the nation. He suggested that each man dedicate himself at this time to the service of the community and nation.

The only guest at the meeting was Clark Julian with Ed Kirby.

In his address Judge Ferree stated that it takes a real man to stand up and face the hardships of life. At this time every man should stand up and be a real American.

The Judge went on to say that we may be in the beginning of a struggle that will require all of our energy and effort for the assurance of our safety.

In conclusion Judge Ferree said that it is time for all Americans to line up in one body, and spend every ounce of energy and resource to safeguard the great heritage given to us by the founder of this great nation of ours.

METEOROLOGIST SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Wiley Sims Of Winston-
Salem Weather Bureau
Tells Of Work

Wiley Sims, meteorologist for the Winston-Salem weather bureau, gave an interesting talk on the weather to the Kiwanis club at their weekly meeting Tuesday night.

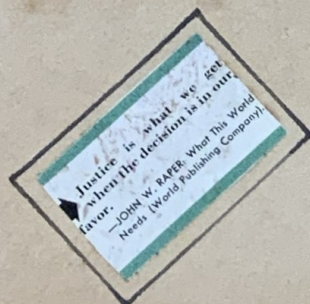

Mr. Sims was introduced by Dr. J. E. Pritchard, who was a guest of Halle C. Reaves. Dr. Pritchard has been a weather observer for many years and founded the first weather observatory in Asheboro.

In his address, Mr. Sims pointed out five fields in which the weather bureau serves the public. The first through aviation by giving pilots the heights of clouds, wind velocity, and other valuable flying data.

In agriculture the bureau gives the farmer information as to the weather conditions for dusting, when to plant and other important weather facts. In the field of transportation the bureau gives trucking firms information as to the weather conditions over the routes they will take.

By keeping records of the weather they supply data as to annual rainfall, average temperature, etc. Finally the bureau serves the general public with their forecast for the expected weather conditions for the day.

In respect to weather forecasts, Mrs. Sims stated that they had to be accurate, and the local broadcast of predictions is good for a 100 mile area.

UNC-State Frosh Have Many 1949 N. C. High School Stars

Several of the more outstanding high school football stars of the 1949 grid season will be seen in action here on Oct. 5 in the UNC-N. C. State freshman game sponsored by the Asheboro Kiwanis club. Both teams have a total of 51 Tar Heel boys on their rosters. Among the stars will be Asheboro's own Junior Seawell, who in the words of Freshman Coach Jim Camp, "has been the outstanding defensive lineman against the varsity, and we are expecting him to be a future star player at Carolina." Camp also has said that Seawell will start for the Tar Babies.

Billy Williams, of Henderson, the boy many think will be another Charley Justice is one of the big offensive sparks for the UNC frosh. Williams was the member of the Henderson team that won the state AA crown last year, and he was the outstanding player in the Shrine Bowl last December. He rated as about top choice of the backs in the state last year.

Some of the boys playing for Carolina that played against Asheboro High School last year include Roger Daleheight and Bob Riley, of Hillsboro; Horace Fuller, Monroe; Billy Hawks and Stanley Leftwich, both of Mt. Airy.

Of the 51 state boys on the squad, 31 are with Carolina, and the remaining 20 with the Wolfpack. This is one of the highest number of native boys that either squad has boasted in a long while.

Three of the Boys on the Carolina squad are from Southern Pines, where they were members of the state champion six man football team, a sport becoming quite popular with small schools.

State boasts a number of Northern boys on their squad, including three players from Niagara Falls, N. Y., and three other players from Buffalo, N. Y.

Tickets To Carolina-State Freshman Football Game Selling Well

State Frosh Should Rule Slight Favorite Over UNC

For the first time in a long while a N. C. State football team will be a pre-game favorite over the University of North Carolina, and such will be the situation when both freshman teams clash here tonight at 8 p. m. in Lindley field.

Boasting the strongest team in State freshman football history the Wolfpack displayed what they had, last week by romping over Campbell College 60-6. Meanwhile Carolina dropped Asheville-Biltmore 34-0.

The largest crowd to ever attend a sporting event in Randolph county" is the opinion of Kiwanis officials on the overflow crowd expected tonight. Bleachers have been erected for 4,800 fans, and the fences behind the end zones have been moved out to accommodate additional stands.

Officials advise fans who wish to park uptown that they will receive free transportation to and from the ball park by McGill buses. They will run up until game time, and will return passengers to the uptown area after the game.

Additional parking space has been made around the park, and one way traffic will be observed on several of the streets leading to the park.

Requests for tickets have come in from all of the towns surrounding Asheboro. Eight all-state high school players will be seen in the Carolina starting lineup.

Thirty one of the Carolina players are native Tar Heels, while over half of the State players come from out of state. Boys to watch for State are Ed Hughes, a 190' back who tallied 18 points against Campbell, and Tommy Swanger, a hip-dipper style runner.

Billy Williams, of Henderson, who many considered the best high school player in North Carolina last year will perform for the Tar Babies. Included in the starting lineup will be Junior Seawell of Asheboro.

Advance ticket sales have been excellent, but tickets may also be purchased at the gate.

State Frosh Edge UNC 7-0 On 85 Yard Run

Pulling in a punt on his own 15, Tom Swanger set sail down the right side lines for 85 yards and the only score of the evening as the N. C. State freshman scored a 7-0 win over the UNC Tar Babies Thursday evening in Lindley field.

Swangers score late in the fourth quarter marked a game which saw both teams push down the field with their offense until the goal line neared, and then the lines would rise up and nail them down.

The only touchdown came after Carolina had taken over on their own 41, and had lost two yards in three attempts to crack the State line. Bill Hawks, a Mt. Airy boy, booted a long low end over end punt that Swanger took in mid field on the 15.

The Hamburg, N. Y. halfback cut to the right sideline, and on some beautiful downfield blocking carried to the 50, faked safety man Bill Gardner at the midfield stripe, then angled across the field to the left side line to go over standing up. Boyd Allen split the uprights for the extra point.

Five times Carolina pushed past the State 30 yard line, and for most of the last half until Swanger's jaunt they had the ball in Wolfpack territory.

But a stubborn State line, and several Carolina pass receivers who let the ball slip through their fingers, kept the Tar Babies from scoring. Their furthest penetration was to the Wolfpack 11 in the fourth period.

Carolina looked as though they had a scoring thrust in the early minutes of the game. Bill Williams, Henderson speedster, returned the kickoff to the 50. Two plays carried to the State 41, and on a handoff from Bob White, Williams cut around left end to the State 11 yard line. But the Tar Babies lost yardage on four tries with State taking over on the 14.

The Wolfpack's furthest first half drive carried to the Carolina 24, but the Tar Heels recovered a fumble to stop the threat.

Carolina made its biggest drive in the third period after taking over on their own 33. Five plays put the ball for a first and ten on the State 16. Gardner's try around right end lost a yard, and a pass went incomplete. A handoff from Gardner to Williams picked up four yards to the 12, but the Wolfpack forward wall rose up to smear Williams on a buck over the center of the line, the Wolfpack taking over on downs.

Williams and Gardner pulled some nice end sweeps to pace the Carolina offensive machine while Swanger and Graham Lutz were the big gun in the Wolfpack attack.

State ..... 0 0 0 7-7
Scoring—Swanger. Conversion—Allen.

Paul Burke, chairman of ticket sales for the State College (freshman) teams to be played at Lindley field in Asheboro Thursday night, October 5 at 8 p. m., reported the sales are progressing well.

'Learn By Working' Program

Asheboro high school has one of the approximately 40 diversified occupations programs in North Carolina. This type of program started in North Carolina in 1936 at Greensboro high school and has spread steadily throughout the state.

Under the D. O. plan, the high school student receives instructions in the school which he carries to his job and puts into practical use in the afternoon. It enables the student to obtain worthwhile training which the school could only provide at a very great expense.

Students receive two units for the D. O. work, which requires two class periods a day as well as the afternoon work. The students continue their required work in English and History so that they can meet all requirements for graduation.

At present Harold H. Harrison, director of the program, has twenty-three students taking D. O. at the local high school. These boys and girls receive training in twelve different occupational fields.

Sunset Bakeries; Troy Lee Moore, Colonial Store; Gilbert Trogdon, Standard Tie Label; Verna Clark, Big Bear Gro.; Robert Cox, Capitol Theatre; Billy Essick, Northside Ser. Station; Bennie Hartman, Burlington Mills, Central Falls; Doris Miller, Kizer Launderers and Cleaners; Darald Ray Auman, Burlington Mills, Central Falls; Lyndon Bulla, Acme Hosiery Mills; Charles Bunting, Eagles Stores; Earl Trotter, Rose's Stores; Ruby Ann Miller, Baker Shoe Store.

Boys and girls who might quit school to take jobs are helped to remain in high school longer by the diversified occupations program, members of the Asheboro Kiwanis club were told Tuesday night by Harold H. Harrison, director of the local high school's diversified occupations program.

Under the program, students spend part of the day in classrooms and during the remainder of the day work at part-time jobs.

Asheboro high school now has 23 boys and girls enrolled in the program in 14 types of work, he stated.

Mr. Harris was presented by Guy B. Teachey superintendent of Asheboro schools.

2. Avoid eating the following during the five-hour period before donating: fats, (such as cream, butter, mayonnalse, ice cream, fatty meats) fried foods, and eggs.
3. The following foods may be taken during the 5-hour period before donating: fruit, fruit juices, bread, crackers dry toast, raw vegetables or vegetables boiled in plain water, jam, jelly or honey, skimmed milk, black coffee or tea with sugar.

THIS IS IMPORTANT TO BOTH YOU AND THE RECIPIENT.

IT IS VERY NECESSARY TO EAT AS INSTRUCTED.

Yours very truly,

RANDOLPH COUNTY CHAPTER

Appealing For Blood Donors

Kiwanis Club of Asheboro

KIWANIANS ASKED TO HELP BLOOD BANK

George Laycock, Randolph Hospital Head, Speaks At Meeting

A humorous address on civic clubs, and an appeal for blood donations were made at the weekly meeting of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night.

George Laycock, administrator of the Randolph hospital, urged all members possible to donate blood to the blood bank on November 8. The bank will be located at the Teen-Age building.

Mr. Laycock stated that Randolph county was in debt for 115 pints of blood that had been secured from other counties. He then cited the cases of several local people whose lives had been saved from the blood the hospital had on hand.

Tommy Bulla, Jr., program chairman for the week, then presented James Croom, Jr., who gave a humorous talk on "What My Civic Club Has Done For Me." He illustrated his address with pictures.

Guest at the meeting was Hubert Crowder with Odell Calhoun.

When the American Red Cross bloodmobile visits Asheboro Wednesday, Nov. 8, residents of Asheboro and vicinity are asked to go to the Teen-Age building between the hours of 11 a. m. and 5 p. m. and give 200 pints of blood. It is announced by Clyde C. Penny, blood donor chairman for organizational groups, and Jack Pugh, chairman for merchants and business men.

"There are two reasons for asking for 200 pints," the chairmen said. "First, the basic quota of 125 pints for community and military needs must be met; second, part of the 115 pints deficit for Randolph county must be eliminated.

"At the present time less than 30 donor pledge cards have been signed. Does this mean that the people of Asheboro are not interested in their sons, brothers, husbands or sweethearts who are fighting in Korea? Does this mean that the citizens of Asheboro would like to go to the hospital here and be told, 'Sorry, but we can not get the blood you need from Charlotte, Asheboro failed to meet its quota and we will not have the blood until the bloodmobile visits another town tomorrow'?"

"Unless the people of Asheboro realize the responsibility they have toward the blood program and do volunteer to give blood on November 8, there will be no blood available to send to Korea—and there will not be blood to meet the needs of our hospital or the other hospitals in the Charlotte region for 24 hours after the unit goes back to Charlotte.

"Liberty, with a population of 1,400 persons collected a record of 175 pints. Is Asheboro, with a population of 7,674, not going to meet even the minimum quota?"

"The merchants of the town, clubs and other civic organizations are responsible for getting the donors for this visit. The appointed leaders of these organizations may work untold hours, but unless the people respond to this urgent need for blood, nothing can be accomplished.

"If you are employed by a merchant or other business man of the town, if you are a member of any organization given a quota, won't you go to the appointed donor recruiter and pledge a pint of blood for November 8? You will be doing yourself and your fellow man a favor, as well as saving the life of some one you know here at home or on the battlefield in the war area.

COMPLETING PLANS FOR BLOODMOBILE VISIT NOVEMBER 8

Ask Civic And Business Groups To Pledge Donation of 200 Pints

SEEK 325 PROSPECTS

Monday night a group of industrial, residential and business representatives met in the Fayetteville Street school auditorium to hear Mrs. Marian Ritzert from the regional blood center in Charlotte speak on the blood program of the American Red Cross.

Mrs. Ritzert stressed the importance of having a well organized plan for meeting the needs of the program in the community. She also stated that at the present time the citizens of Randolph county have received 115 pints of blood more than they have contributed.

D. F. Wittner, chairman of the Randolph county chapter of the American Red Cross, presided during a discussion period. It was decided that civic, social and other organizations, the merchants and business groups would be asked to supply blood donors for the November 8 visit of the bloodmobile.

Clyde Penny was chosen chairman for activity within the organizations. Jack Pugh and Harris Coffin were chosen to direct activities of the merchants and business group.

Because it is necessary to sign 325 prospective donors, in order to insure the taking of 200 pints of blood, the number was broken down and certain quotas assigned to each division. Mr. Penny's division was given a quota of 200 donors; this in turn was broken down and a quota was assigned to each organization on the basis of the number of members, and the considered ability of these to give blood.

Mr. Pugh's division is formulating plans for coverage of business district.

Mr. Penny, Mr. Pugh and Mr. Coffin urged that all groups respond to the need for blood donors. "Much blood is still needed to be sent to Korea and also to be sent to the hospitals in the United States which are now receiving wounded from the battle front," they stated.

"In addition to these needs there is an ever present need for blood for use in local hospitals and also for use of Randolph county citizens who may go to hospitals outside the county for treatment.

"Through community cooperation, Asheboro can meet its goal of 200 pints of blood on November 8," the chairman concluded.

1 pint of your blood

Can be your gift of life to a man or woman or child.

You won't need to be on hand when the brakes scream . . . or the flames roar . . . or the surgeon goes to work . . .

Your gift of life will be ready when it is needed.

BE A BLOOD DONOR

Don't forget the call of the bloodmobile on Wednesday, November 8. It is vitally important that Asheboro exceed its quota of 200 pints or blood at the Teen-Age Club instead of the Nurses Home of the hospital. If you or your family has received a transfusion during the past three months you should arrange to have the blood replaced.

Your gift of blood is your chance to save a life!

Donors Asked To Give Total Of 200 Pints

"Unless the people of Asheboro respond to the urgent need for blood donors for Wednesday, Nov. 8, some person in this community or some servant man in Korea may die because that needed pint of fresh blood was not available at a critical moment, it is announced by the local Red Cross office.

"If scientists could find a substitute for the human blood, there would be no need for the collection of blood by the American Red Cross. However, the intricate and complicated mechanism of the human body has never been duplicated, and the only source of the life sustaining fluid—blood—is healthy living people.

"There are many times when, because of disease or accident, blood in added amounts is needed for the human body. This can be manufactured only in the body of another individual. Fortunately, healthy persons can lose a pint or more of blood without suffering any ill effects. This means, then, that every normal person can actually save a life by giving a pint of blood.

"On Wednesday, Nov. 8, the bloodmobile of the American Red Cross will be at the Teen-age building from 11 a. m. until 5 p. m. The citizens of the community are asked to give 200 pints of blood on this day. Of this, 125 pints are to be used for community and military purposes. The remaining 75 pints are to be applied to an ever-increasing deficit of blood which Randolph county citizens have used in the local hospital and in hospitals outside the county.

"If you have not been asked to give blood, come to the unit any time during the operation. Your donation will save a life!"

Perfect Attendance Pins
Awarded To Three Men
At Meeting

Asserting that if we want to do anything in the present world affairs, we must move together and act first, Rev. C. D. McCarver of Duke University addressed the Kiwanis club Tuesday night.

At the meeting perfect attendance pins were awarded to Bill Drake, and C. C. Presnell, for four years, and Ryan Neely, for one year perfect attendance. Guests at the meeting were Billy Perdue with Dal Rich, and Forrest B. Pulley with Jack Garner.

Rev. Mr. McCarver was introduced by Tracy McGill, program chairman for the week.

Using as his topic, "Lets Do It Now," Rev. Mr. McCarver stated that one man may start a movement, but one man cannot be a movement. "We must realize the power of organized effort," he said.

The man who stands and waits is a divider and slacker who wants to get rich on the spoils, the speaker said. "An organization to exist must have as its chief program the help of mankind," Mr. McCarver declared.

He urged that when you find an organization which respects an individual's virtue, talent, and industry, banded together to build the world by building men, then you should support it. You must not sit on the sidelines and let another do the work. If this can be done it can lead mankind into a better place in which to live, the speaker concluded.

KIWANIANS VIEW PICTURE ON OIL

Lions Club Guests At Meeting Devoted To "Oil Progress Week"

A program devoted to "Oil Progress Week" brought the Lions club as guest of the Asheboro Kiwanis club at its meeting Tuesday night.

In the absence of the president, Joe Allen presided and extended the Lions club a welcome to the meeting. Lewis Eagle, Lion president, thanked the Kiwanians for the invitation.

A report was given by Clyde Lucas on the recent Kiwanis convention in Spartanburg, S. C. He reported to the members that E. G. Miller had been elected Lt. Governor of the third Kiwanis district.

Program Chairman Baxter Johnson introduced O. M. House, local oil dealer, who gave a few remarks on oil progress week which is observed from October 15-21.

Mr. House then presented W. O. Hines of Raleigh. Mr. Hines explained what the picture would show and pointed out that oil is not only used for power and fuel, but that many chemicals and by-products come from oil. He also stated that over two million people are employed in the oil industry.

The motion picture showed the drilling of an oil well, refining, shipping of the oil, and its final destination at a filling station.

Last Tuesday night the Lions Club met with us and we had a grand evening. There was a dominant theme of good fellowship, and your writer agrees with some others that said we should do this more often. I believe everyone felt at home--- both the host and the guest.

The local Lions Club will meet with us tonight. It is urgently requested that we mingle with them - let's make them feel at home - let's make them glad that they are meeting with us. Remember, these Lions are our buddies, not "furriners". Let's be one big "gang" tonight.

OUR DUTY

Is Voting Too Much Trouble?

Democracy is not the most efficient form of government but it is the safest.

What makes it the safest? The ballot. It is a surefire protection for the people, if—
If what? If they use it.

Elementary, my dear Watson? Yes, but the majority of the people who can vote don't bother to. Only one in three used the ballot in the last election comparable to the election coming up on Tuesday, which was the one in 1946.

The national average was 38 per cent. That was only about 34,400,000 out of about 90,400,000.

Furthermore the percentage has been dwindling since 1900.

How does our record compare with other countries? Poorly. Switzerland and Italy, for example, have us badly beaten. And in Australia, Holland and Belgium voters turn out to the tune of from 90 to 95 per cent.

How does North Carolina stack up with the other states of the American Union? Badly. What per cent of Tar Heels of voting age took their civic responsibilities seriously enough to cast a ballot in 1946? Less than one in four. To be exact, 23 per cent.

This was far below Montana which led the union with 64 per cent. But we could still thank God for South Carolina with 3 per cent (that's what the book said) and nine other Southern states topped by Virginia with 15 per cent.

Who is it that doesn't do all this voting? Well, in Ohio a survey showed that 11 per cent of teachers didn't vote, 18 per cent of physicians and druggists, 21 per cent of chamber of commerce members, 32 per cent of bank employees and 33 per cent of ministers.

Democracy is the safest form of government, if it works. There is one way to make it work. The people have a sure and easy way to safeguard themselves from the corrupt and incompetent in office. All they have to do is use the ballot sensibly. Is that too much?

METHODIST MINISTER SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Hear Rev. H. E. Duncan, Of Greensboro Methodist
District

"A strong army in the hands of the right man is necessary," declared Rev. Herman E. Duncan, superintendent of the Greensboro Methodist district, in his address to the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night.

W. W. Adkins presided at the meeting in the absence of President T. C. Hollingsworth. G. E. Miller was program director.

Visitors at the meeting included Insurance Commissioner Waldo C. Cheek, and Scoutmaster W. P. French and members of Boy Scout troop 555, which is sponsored by the Kiwanis club were present.

Adkins announced that T. J. Robinson has been named secretary of the club for 1951 by the board of directors.

In his address Rev. Mr. Duncan stated that the time when people beat their swords into plowshares is no pipe dream, but will finally come to pass, even if a long time off.

A strong army in the hands of the right man is necessary, he said. Rev. Mr. Duncan declared he had no time for pacifists who would do away with their armed force. If it would work internationally, he said, we could eliminate police in local units.

For peace it is necessary to have radiant contagious optimism and dogged determination to face the problems before the world today. Rev. Mr. Duncan concluded.

Perfect Attendance Pins
Awarded To Clyde Lucas
And John P. Davis

Kiwanis club members were entertained Tuesday night by a humorous speech by Vaughn Marley, Ramsey merchant.

Attendance pins were awarded to Clyde Lucas for 10 years perfect attendance, and John P. Davis for two years. Program chairman was Frank Edmondson.

Mr. Marley was introduced by Garland Allen. Interspersed by some of his homespun wit, the speaker used as his topic the building of fellowship.

A man must have friends to get along in the world. Knowing the same people and doing the same things, all help to build fellowship, Mr. Marley said.

The world needs Christian fellowship more today than ever before. If we can understand Christian fellowship in the world, then we would be able to live in peace, the speaker said.

MONROE, Nov. 17. — Asheboro High School staged a sensational rally here tonight to overpower Monroe High's grid forces 19 to 7 and thus clinch the South Piedmont Conference champion — Asheboro's first in history.

For Coach Lee J. Stone the game meant bringing the Comets from 13th to first in the conference to two years and for Asheboro High School their first conference crown and their most successful season in many years. They ended the season with a 6-0 SPC record, and a season record of 8-3.

Wade To Speak At Football Banquet

Wallace Wade, head football coach of Duke University, will be the principal speaker at the annual Kiwanis club banquet for the Asheboro Blue Comets on Wednesday, December 13, James E. Webb, athletic chairman announced today.

Awards will be presented at the banquet for the most valuable player, best blocker, and most inspirational player as elected by their teammates and coaches. The selections will not be announced until that time.

Wade is expected to bring along several Blue Devil players with him. Pictures of a Duke game, probably Georgia Tech, will be shown.

A large group of invited guests will be present at the affair to be held in the Kiwanis Teen Age club building. Each club member will have the opportunity of bringing one guest.

The celebration this year will be especially important for it will honor a team that won the South Piedmont conference championship for the first time in history, finished with one of the best records in many years, and landed one player in the Shrine bowl.

Wade To Speak At Asheboro

ASHEBORO, Dec. 2. — Wallace Wade, head football coach of Duke University, will be the featured speaker at a banquet by the Asheboro Kiwanis Club honoring the Asheboro Blue Comets on Wednesday, December 13, it has been announced.

Trophies will be awarded for the most valuable, and inspirational player, and best blocker on the team. The banquet is an annual affair.

Wade is expected to bring several Blue Devil players with him, and pictures of a Duke game will be shown. The celebration will be especially significant for Asheboro for this season marked the first time they have ever won the South Piedmont conference crown.

York, Anderson, Jarrell Win Awards At Football Banquet

James York, Harry Anderson, and David Jarrell were presented player awards, and Coaches Lee J. Stone and Warren Hawkins television sets at the annual Kiwanis club football banquet Wednesday night for the Asheboro high school football team.

Guests and members heard Southern Conference Commissioner Wallace Wade, former football coach at Duke University, deplore "the terrific emphasis on winning today."

To All-State James York went the most valuable player award, presented by R. E. Kizer. Harry Anderson won the most inspirational award, presented by Tommy Hollingsworth. For the first time a trophy was presented for the best blocker on the team given by Reitzel Smith, with the award going to David "Chicken" Jarrell. These boys were elected to receive the awards by a secret vote of their teammates.

Coach Stone announced that his Co-Captains for next year, elected by the team, will be Charles Needham and Don Funderburke.

Television sets from the team and fans of Asheboro were presented to Coaches Stone and Hawkins. The Rotary club presented an award to each of the members of the team.

Co-Captains York and Anderson presented to Principal Hatcher P. Story the South Piedmont Conference Championship Trophy, won by Asheboro with a 6-0 conference record. It marks the first time in the history of the school that Asheboro has been conference champ.

Kiwanis President Tommy Hollingsworth recognized guests of members and the club.

Wade was introduced by Dr. George Joyner.

Asserting that winning is the most important things that occupies the athletes participating and followers today, Wade said the participants are getting too far from the feeling that when he wins it is through application, and team spirit, instead of using illegal players, getting by some loopholes, or using rough tactics.

"You don't win anything when you take unfair advantage of your opponent, and don't let the other fellow have the same opportunities that you have," he declared.

What a community should do is get behind the wholesome activities of children. The finest thing to be proud of is young people, Commissioner Wade said.

"You want to encourage boys to be competitive, but you should be careful that the influence does not go beyond the emphasis that would be good for the boy. Don't make winning to the deterrent of the young people", Wade continued.

"So many want to win to satisfy selfish pride. If we don't start thinking of this importance on pride in colleges we might be approaching a dangerous era," Wade concluded.

The meeting was ended with pictures of the Duke-Georgia Tech football game.

We Give Thanks

On this truly American holiday we give thanks for the many blessings He has deigned to deliver on us. We give thanks for the strength He has endowed us with, enabling us to preserve those liberties we have inherited. We thank Him for the rich fields and bustling factories that bring us great wealth and comfort. And we thank Him especially for revealing His truth to us, giving the greatest wealth of all.

KLARION NEWS

NOVEMBER 28, 1950

LAST WEEK

Last week we found out all about television and the future possibilities it may have. This was an interesting program presented by Mr. P. T. Hines and Mr. Gaines Kelly of the WFMY-TV Station in Greensboro. There were many questions answered by these two fellows and it looks as if it will be some time before we will be able to get ball games on television direct from Kenan Stadium or Duke Stadium or any stadium in North Carolina. Certainly would be nice for some of these good Carolina or Duke fans to sponsor one of these ball games.

KIWANIS CLUB HEARS ABOUT TELEVISION

P. T. Hines And Gaines Kelly Of WFMY-TV Speak At Meeting

An interesting insight into the field of television was afforded members of the Kiwanis club Tuesday night when P. T. Hines, and Gaines Kelly of station WFMY-TV spoke to the members.

At the meeting Lt. Governor elect Ed Miller announced that the annual third district officers conference will be held Tuesday at the local Teen Age building. Clifford Pace with Tom Cox was the only guest at the meeting.

In his remarks Hines stated that television was an important and growing business, it is expanding, and that adjustment and argument are necessary to its growth.

Mr. Kelly pointed out that television is now being used by some colleges to teach subjects, and that it is very valuable for study. It was his opinion that color television is still several years away.

Don't forget this week the District Conference will be held at the Teen-Age Building at 1:00 p.m. Tuesday, the 28th. Our own Kiwanian Ed Miller is Lieutenant-Governor and will have charge of this meeting. Am sure he has arranged a bang-up program for Tuesday night at our regular meeting. We understand that Dr. Charlie Armstrong, Past President of Kiwanis International will be here along with several other prominent men in Kiwanis in our district. Let's show Ed our appreciation and try to attend this Conference on Tuesday afternoon, especially the new officers and new Board of Directors elected for the 1951 term. If you can't make the afternoon session, be sure to come to the meeting on Tuesday night and give Ed a 100% attendance.

A conference in instruction on club management, and activities, was held by officers of the third Kiwanis district Tuesday in Asheboro. G. E. Miller, of Asheboro, Lt. Governor of the district, presided.

Present were officers elect from Asheboro, Lexington, Winston-Salem, High Point, Mt. Airy, North Wilkesboro, Salisbury, Leaksville, Spray, Draper, and Reidsville.

Among the speakers were Dr. E. J. Coltrane, past district governor, of High Point, the 1950 Lt. Governor, J. E. Gibson, of Winston-Salem, and T. E. Story, of North Wilkesboro.

The conference included showing of slide films on Kiwanis activities and responsibilities.

Lt. Governor G. E. Miller and officers of the third district held a conference on Tuesday. The main speaker was E. J. Coltrane, Past District Governor.

HIGH POINT TEACHER SPEAKS TO KIWANIS

Calls For Education Of American Youth To Face
Commission

Asserting that America must prepare its youth by education in the American way of life to face Communism, Eugene Coltrane, High Point College educator addressed the Asheboro Kiwanis club Tuesday night.

Visitors at the meeting were officers in the third district of the club who were attending a district conference meeting held here Tuesday. They were introduced by Ed Miller, incoming Lt. Governor of the district.

Mr. Coltrane opened his address by asserting that he had lived through three wars, and that he was more distressed now than he has ever been before. He said it looked as though America was going to have to face the Communist world alone.

If we must stand up to the rest of the world, then we must prepare our youth by education in the American way of life. We might lose heavily in men and money in another war, but with an everlasting trust in God, Mr. Coltrane believed that our way would finally triumph.

The flowers on the table last week was donated by Jack Garner in honor of National Florist Week and certainly looked mighty good. We really appreciate Jack's generosity and it was very thoughtful of him to think of the Club during this week.

THE KLARION

DECEMBER 18, 1950

LAST WEEK

The big program of the year honoring the South Piedmont champions, Asheboro High School football team and coaches was held last week. Each player received a token of appreciation for being a member of the winning team. Trophies for the outstanding players were awarded. Coach Lee Stone and Assistant Coach, Buddy Hawkins received television sets.

Coach Wallace Wade, Southern Conference Commissioner brought us the picture of the Duke versus Georgia Tech game.

We are all looking forward to a similar season and get-together next year.

Thanks to the Athletic Committee for this wonderful program.

THIS WEEK

Santa Claus is coming to the Kiwanis Club Tuesday night. You are asked to bring a gift not to exceed $2.00 for exchange. Remember last? Slim Presnell received a bottle of Hadacol.

Next Week

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year!!!!!!

Carolinas District

Volume Twenty-nine

November, 1950

Number Eleven

"Sure, Al . . . Carolina District clubs have as many activities as the best of the 30 International districts. Only thing is, club officers simply don't report 'em". Past International President Charles W. Armstrong of Salisbury hopes Carolinas clubs will do better activity reporting job in 1951, in talk at Charlotte get-together with International Trustee Al Cox of Canton, Ohio.

"Do 'em And Report 'em"

A district humming like a beehive with activities, yet ranked next to the bottom by Kiwanis International in the standing of the 30 Districts . . . that's the picture of the Carolinas Kiwanis District today and there's plenty going to be done about it.

The trouble lies in the failure of local clubs to report fully and promptly all the projects and activities they carry on says District Governor Orin Crow and District Secretary Herb Hennig.

"There isn't a District in all of International more active in local Kiwanis activities" says Past International President Charles W. Armstrong. "Yet we are ranked next to the bottom because we don't report these things".

It's a District weakness of years standing, not just the current year.

So local club officers can expect to hear plenty about this problem from now on . . . and 1951 Lieutenant Governors will make its solution a matter of primary concern when they visit the clubs in their divisions.

"It isn't enough to carry on a project or activity in the name of your club", District officials stress. "You've got to go one step further and list these projects and activities on your monthly reports".

"Do 'em and Report 'em"

New Kiwanis Theme Is Punchline For Freedom

A great deal of enthusiasm has been the response to the International Kiwanis theme for 1950-51.

"Freedom is NOT Free" is now the punch line for accenting the Kiwanis point of view as to the responsibilities of every individual for doing his share in combatting subversives and anti-American ideals.

The great American shortcoming of taking too much for granted is the target of this campaign. The traditional American view is that freedom is the heritage of every man . . . that nobody nor anything can take away that heritage is getting a severe going over by students of world affairs.

So the Kiwanis view IS: We can no longer take for granted the priceless privileges we enjoy in this Democracy

. . . we've got to combat those ideas which seek to "rid" us of the "shackles of Capitalism" . . . we've got to speak up on every occasion when we hear our Way of Life condemned . . . we've got to PROVE the American Way of Life in our business, our politics, our religion, and our social relationships.

For, the Kiwanis theme holds, "FREEDOM IS NOT FREE".

KIWANIANS, WHAT NOW?

Have you bought your T. B. Christmas seals yet?
Have you had your chest X-rayed?

Christmas Seals Fight Tuberculosis

Will you help?

To help make it possible for everyone to have a chest X-ray.

To improve our county-wide program of health education. (People must know the basic facts about tuberculosis in order to protect themselves.)

To complete the organization of an association for Randolph County so that every section of the county may have a part in the planning of the work and use of the Seal Sale Funds.

To offer guidance to those recovering from the disease and help them return to normal living.

To provide emergency hospitalization and other minor services for patients awaiting admission to state hospitals and

YOU need a chest X-ray

you need A CHEST X-RAY

No matter HOW you say it —
Everybody needs a chest X-ray once a year!

KIWANIS HEARS OF RANDOLPH FARMING

County Agent E. S. Millsaps
Speaks: Football Banquet Next Week

An interesting talk by County Farm Agent E. S. Millsaps, and a motion picture which encompassed the recent development of farming in Randolph county, was presented to the Kiwanis club at their weekly meeting Tuesday night.

Guests included Hubert Wentworth with Bob Marlowe, Zeb Morris with Ott Burton, and David Jarrell and Harry Anderson, members of the Key club. Guest of the club was William Van Hoy, faculty advisor at Asheboro.

Reitzel Smith announced that the club would meet next on Wednesday night, December 13, to hold their annual banquet for players and coaches of the Asheboro Blue Comet football squad. Wallace Wade, head coach at Duke University, will be the principal speaker. Awards will be presented to the most valuable, and inspirational player, and to the best blocker on the team.

Joe Cagle presented Mr. Millsaps. His talk and picture dealt with the soil conservation, development of dairy cattle, and the winter pasture and dairy crops, the progress all of these have made in the county in the past few years.

Thanks to Joe Cagle for bringing us Mr. Millsaps, Randolph County Farm Agent. Even in the darkness, while "Stumpy" was showing his slides, you could see and hear the hayseed Kiwanians sprouting into farm life. This back-to-earth program brought far-away homesick looks to the faces of some of the boys.

December 19th meeting will be our Christmas program. Gene Williamson, program chairman, has asked Santa Claus to appear again this year for this meeting. All members are asked to bring a gift (not to exceed $2.00) for exchange.

The big BLOW OUT comes this week when the Athletic Committee brings us Wallace Wade, Duke University football coach and some of his boys, or maybe I should say Southern Conference Commissioner, Wallace Wade. The latter title will be in effect January 1, 1951. So here is a chance to get in on the newest poop for next year's football. The Asheboro High school football team will be our guests at this meeting also.

At this time we would like to say, we are truly proud of Lee Stone as a Kiwanian and a coach. He and his team have shown us a most successful season.

KIWANIANS ENJOY CHRISTMAS MUSIC AT CLUB MEETING

Mrs. E. V. Williamson And Daughters Present
Special Program

GIFTS ARE EXCHANGED

Asheboro Kiwanians enjoyed a program of Christmas music presented by Mrs. E. V. Williamson and Misses Charlotte and Nancy Williamson at the club's meeting Tuesday night.

The musicians were introduced by Mr. Williamson, a member of the club.

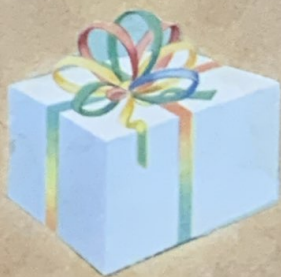

The program included "Fauns, Charminade," a piano solo by Mrs. Williamson; "Symbols of Peace at Christmastide," by the trio; "Rudolph, the Red Nosed Reindeer," sung by Charlotte and Nancy Williamson; and "Silent Night" by the trio.

Santa Claus distributed gifts exchanged by club members, and read a humorous letter purporting to tell what each Kiwanian wanted for Christmas. Cliff Vestal, chairman of the house and grounds committee, presented Mrs. G. P. Pritchard a silver platter in appreciation of her services as pianist for the club.

T. J. Robinson, attendance chairman, presented perfect attendance pins to the following members for records as listed: H. R. Trollinger, one year; F. Knott, four years; Cliff Vestal, seven years; and G. E. Miller, ten years.

Harris Coffin was presented by Garland Allen as a new member.

"Chicken" Jarrell and Harry Anderson were introduced as Key club members.

WE BUILD

Now and then as you drive along a country road or a city street you see a sign which says, "Road Ends". I've come to that point in my Kiwanis work for at the end of this month I'll be a Past President.

And now as the year closes I want to tell you how much I've appreciated your kind thoughts about our work...your loyal cooperation and all the courtesies extended me during the year. Yes, from the bottom of my heart comes my sincere THANK YOU.

As we begin the journey down this new road, every indication points to a most successful year in our Kiwanis Club. But your new officers will need your help. Won't you join them in the work they have planned? This is my plea for the New Year.

Christmas indeed gives us a glimpse of the road WE BUILD in our Kiwanis work, so in keeping with the spirit of this joyous season, my wish is that the road of life ahead of you will lead you to Health, Wealth and Happiness.

Merry Christmas

James E. Jellingma
