Dear Members,

The delay is mine. I have been ill, my daughter has been ill and my husband has been in a serious accident.

Miss Myrtle Cox, a retired school teacher, suffered a stroke and is no longer in Randleman but is being cared for in Tenn. by family.

Mrs. Donna Wood has lost her married daughter and her husband is not well and needs attention in dressing etc.

Everything is way behind. We are omitting Genealogy and the promised line of Mrs. Crespi, Mt. Lebanon Cem. reading etc. to get the summer issue in the mail.

We hope we can get that included in the Fall we are now completing.

The Winter issue will carry the news if we will continue the Quarterly next year. Do not send any dues expecting the issues until then.

I have misplaced a letter from some one wanting Balfour material. Does any one know of such a person? Please let me know.

If you have written we will answer when we can find time.

Kind friends if you will lend an ear
A Southern story you will hear.
And if I speak to you this time,
Not in dull prose but gingling rhyme,
I hope you will forgive the deed
Then by your leave I will proceed.
The story I would here relate
Is of a battle very great
Which on December's 13th day,
Near Fredericksburg occured they say.
Fierce raged that alful bloody fight
From 10-P.M. till late at night.
The sun rose, not fresh and proud,
But struggled through a crimson cloud.
The omen was a direful one
To see blood stained our beauteous sun.
The day advanced, the pickets fire
Grew fiercier as the sun grew higher.
Concealed behind a hill that day,
The "Forty Sixth" in safety lay
Until so fierce the battle grew
That in great haste, to arms we flew,
In line of battle straight did go
To meet our abolition foe.
Soon as the hill tp we should gain,
We knew before us in the plain,
The enemy with pomp and show
would aim at us a deadly blow.

And nearer to them as we drew
Prouder our lovely banner flew.
Until in showers fierce and hot
Thick fell among us shell and shot.
Then far along the line arose
Loud cheers in answer to their blows.
Great volleys from our column sped
Casting fire and smoke o'er head.
With double quickstep now from thence
We gained our place behind a fence.
Much deadlier now the bullets tend
Exploding bombs the air doth rend
The cannons smoke, the alful sound
Darkens the air and shakes the ground.
In great suspense is every breath
And all around is gloom and death.
In heaps before us on the plain
Lay many hundred yankeys slain.
Still on they come with "grape" and ball
And still like grass before us fall,
Until the darkness closing in
Hushes the battles horrid din.
Nought now is heard or seen around
Save the hollow and chilling sound
Of dismal wounded Yankey's sighs
Their dying groans, their piteous cries,
And the tread upon the sand
Of old Burnside's retreating band.

Editor's Files con't.

The day is ours, the victory won,
We lay us down until the sun
Fresh in the east began to peep
And rouse us from refreshing sleep.
Thus terminated that great strife
Which took from many a Yank his life,
And caused Abe Lincoln's hosts to see
That though their foes might myriads be
It was no standing reason why
The Rebels panic struck should fly
And lightly throw our Southern cause
Into the Abolition jaws.
Now you will scarcely ask me to tell
If any noble heroes fell.

For many fell and did expire
Before the Vandal's deadly fire.
Long thus by Fate it has been made
That much for Liberty has been paid
And very few who buy the prize
Will e'er behold it with their eyes.
Let us anticipate and pray
That soon there will be a dawning day
When lo the dove of peace shall come
And hover o'er each Southern home.
Then will all sorrow be forgot,
And happiness will be our lot.

"(Letter from Capt. Branson to his sweetheart, when she "discarded him!")

Miss Titia:

I would not spoil this sacred page with a worthless contribution of flattery, or, I would not paint to you the delights and resplendent glories of Elysian plains prospective, for they are not realized on earth.

I would not have you believe the dissolving views which hope created and fancy touches up to bewildering brightness are real; but I would speak of that intellectual beauty, which is an inestimable quality of woman, and with out which she can never attain her highest destiny in life.

Beauty devoid of intellectual polish, is merely superficial-- it is a sickly flower that flourishes only beneath the genial sun of the tropics, and that fades and withers and dies when breathed upon by the frigid winds of December.

But how different the beauty of intellect, which is not affected by the change of seasons, nor the cold blasts of winter---that is not transitory, but permanent and lasting. It is not only a source of perpetual enjoyment to the possor (?), ennobling the soul, purifying the thoughts and affording rich feasts of pleasure, far beyond the appreciation of uncultivated minds; but it also shines for the diffusing a (hacy-?-haly-?) halo of(?) light upon the exterior world. It is not only a dumb automaton, but speaking through the eyes, discloses a great and liberal heart and a mind draped with flowers of beauty and refinement.

And you will, Miss Titia, I think agree with me in saying, that this modified by Divine Grace, is what constitutes true beauty, worth and merit.

Then Beauty is a Goddess
Who flyeth soon away
Unless in intellectual bowers
She is induced to stay.

FAREWELL

Farewell, the fatal word is spoken,
I never more may see thy face:
Alas! the sacred tie is broken
And sorrow occupies the place.

The battle field still spreads before me
And it ere long may be my lot:
But if I fall, in dying thought
By me you will not be forgot.

On many battle fields I've stood
And faced the Vandal fire,
Have seen my bleeding comrades fall
And on the field expire.

46th Reg. N.C. Troops
Killed in action at Petersburg.

Why did not some of you come down this Christmas? Puss wrote your Ma as soon as Grace arrived, and we looked strong for some of you. Mary I want to see you so much. Write very soon to your Aunt Sallie. Grace owes me a letter.

Bush Hill, N.C.
Jan. 27th, 1875

My Dear Mary,

I have been due you a letter ever since before Christmas but did not know whether you were at home or not, and have kept waiting to hear from your Ma or Grace, but not a word do I hear from them. So I will delay no longer. I guess Brother has taken Grace and gone with her and your Ma is so elated with having a preacher for a son-in-law that she has forgotten all her poor kind folks down here.

It has been so long since Christmas I have most forgotten what all we did do. Brother Gas, Grace and Newton came on Tuesday of Christmas week and stayed until the next Sunday week. We had a Tableaux at Caraway the next night after they came. I acted in several pieces, We had a right nice time. The house was crowded. Gas carried me down there and Frank Frazier brought me back in his fine new buggy, came in and stayed until he got ready. He said he could not stay all night, for he had to kill his hogs the next day.

I did not go any where else during Christmas. Grace brought along some sewing to do, and I was busy helping her most of the time while she stayed. Mr. Blair was sick for over a month after he came from Raleigh, with something like neuralgie of the brain and nearly every old man in ten miles around had to come to see him.

Sometimes on Sunday there would be half a dozen here for dinner. He is about well now and I hope some of them will stay at home a "little spell."

I went to a singing at Sallie Linn Blair's last Saturday night, and had a splendid time. I stayed all night. Hattie and Leem (?) was there, also Venie English and a good many others.

I have been to two sewings and one quilting lately. Uncle Zeb's folkes are going to have a quilting in a few days, and I think there will be two or three more in the neighborhood shortly. So you see I can have plenty of work to do. I went to High Point today and got me a calico dres(s), bound and some other little things. I saw Ruffin, he has been teaching down about the factory. His session is just up. Report says he is going to mary(marry) down there. "I wish him good luck and a saft journey".

Realy came round to call on me before he started back to Summerfield.

I went up to Enos A. Blairs one evening last week and spent the night, had a very nice time. Fernando Cortland (a Quaker preacher) was there with a beautiful Florence Sewing machine. They were going to buy it. We sewed until nine o'clock that night-the prettiest sewing I ever saw done on any machine. You can get it for 75 dollars if you make up a club of three. Cortland is agent. I think Ella is going to mary (marry) this spring. They say she is engaged to a Mr. Plummer who works at Bush Hill. He is a good carpenter and a very nice man. She will do well to get him.

I have not much news to write this time. You must all write very soon, and let me know what you are doing. Much love to all,

As ever your Aunt Sallie.

Ed. note: After cutting stencil, I noticed one word left out. Please go to first of the letter, third line --please add Stacy after the word-brother. (Brother Stacy)

RAMELING IN GUILFORD COUNTY COURT HOUSE

Mrs. Ray Cashatt

Guilford County is celebrating its bicentennial 1970-1971. So far, to me, every one but the natives of Guilford are celebrating. There will have to be more in the local papers before I even save a clipping! If you see books or booklets for sale of the celebration be sure and check before you buy, or your hard earned money will go for Culture Week or some unrelated "stuff".

Dr. Blackwell P. Robinson, Professor of History at The University of North Carolina at Greensboro, N.C. is with the history committee of the bicentennial. He knows the history of the county and anything printed of/by him will be correct and worth a purchase.

If your planning to come to Guilford court house to work just stop at the Archives in Raleigh, N.C. with out you have time to spare and can read and read. You will find no Estate Inventories at Guilford before 1900, they are at Raleigh! Indexs are at Guilford but not even photocopies or microfilm of many of the old books. Write before you come! The Clerk of Court, Register of Deeds and many others working in offices there did not know why they had not been furnished copies. If there are any at the Public Library I do not know of them and have not had replies from letters writer to them.

There is no County Historian now, no Historical or Genalogical Society. There is a fine County Museum(Director, Mr. William Moore).

CHURCH MEMBER ROLL

MT. LEBANON - UNITED METHODIST CHURCH

Ed. See Vol. 4- No. 1 for Church History. This Roll came from an old church book Mrs. Sallie Hall had at her home. There are 168 pages in the book. Just a few pages have been used. These are the first nine pages. No date or heading is given. A few pages after the end of this roll is a page, September 1918, Rev. J.B. O'Briant. The History says that Rev. O'Briant came to the work, Nov. 1911, so this is before 1918. I have copied as written, sometimes that was hard to read, and copied comments after the names. Discontinued after the name does not mean they dropped the person from the church roll always, most likely, they had moved or joined another church and asked that it be taken from the roll. There are 294 members names listed here. The book, also has revised lists for the years: 1918, 1921, 1922, 1925, 1929 and 1935. I have no way of knowing if they are complete rolls.

ALLRED
1553 - 1961

Courtsey: Mr. Renne Allred, Jr. P. O. Box 1079, Bowie, Texas 76230

" I have mentioned the Allreds in Utah. Some of the Utah Allreds are descendants of Thomas, born in 1730's, a brother of William (our ancestor), Solomon and John, the four sons of John (Allred (Aldred), the son of William Allred(Aldred-Aldredge). They have more records of the ancestry I believe, then any one else, at least more then I have ever seen or heard of. That is a part of their Mormon religion, the keeping of records of the families, and most of the names in this volume and appendix are in their records.

At page 13 (p 221-Vol. 3 No 4) of this instrument, Jimmy says he is unable to give an account of any of the children of William and Patience other then Stephen, Elijah, Renne and Mahlon. Again from Utah we recieved information that Alfred died in infancy; Reuben moved to Chatham County; John, who married Mary Spoon 1854, place unknown, William went to Indiana; Susan stayed in Randolph County, and is buried with the Reddings at their cemetery (Bethany Methodist); and Laban went to Arkansas. Laban Allred, Huntington, Indiana, a grandson of the William above who went to Indiana, writes he was named after his great uncle Laban, "who had brothers that went to Texas and also had a brother Mahlon who lived in Iowa".

Now, for the benefit of our immediate family, children, grandchildren, and their descendants, I want to make three comments:

1- I want to pay tribute to our mother, Mary Magalene Henson Allred (1871-1954) as Jimmy would have done had he completed this volume. Each of her children who reached maturity attended the Bowie Commerical College, operated by Prof. E. A. Hays now living in Fort Worth. We called this college the "Bowie Knowledge Box". Prof. Hays, now in his 80's, was questioned in 1958, by another old Bowie boy, L. D. Hillyer, Sr., about the Allreds. This conversation was tape recorded, transcribed and a copy furnished to us. Prof. Hays was asked about the Allred "boys" and who was the smartest, and Prof. Hays said: "Now, listen, the smartest of the Allreds was their mother, Mrs. Renne Allred, Sr. She raised those boys; she got them all through high school and my business college, and after they had all gotten into Court reporting or the pratice of law, and well on their seperate ways to sucess, she came down to the Bowie Commerical College and told me that she wanted to take the shorthand and typing course...She completed the course in short order. She was the smartest of them all."

Our mother had a dry wit - she never knew she ever said anything funny, but to us her sayings and writings were jewels.

In 1945 she wrote my wife Velma, a letter telling about making a trip with her sister back to Grayson County, checking on their family tree. Mamma said:

"Well, I got to see where all mu uncles, aunts and cousins lived, recognized some of their homes, espically the one where the dog bit me and tore my dress when I was 7 years old, been scared of dogs ever since- but that road. West Texas breaks are good by the side of them, straight down hills, not room to stop at the bottom but straight up, about 2 miles of this, never was so scared in my life.---I sat and lived over 65 years of my rugged life and can still see all those hills hitting me in the face.---

I know that if I had to make that trip again and live 65 years in one day, I'd be crazy enough to make it in a plane and hope I'd never get there or back.----

Why grandfather's house on one hill north, cemetery first hill south, great-grandfather's second hill south, and three hills only about a mile apart made it one holy sight for generations, but I've found that the world just goes on in spite of ancestors.----

Let's forget it. Worse then bookkeeping, prefer living in the now."

"Love, Mamma."

2- Our sisters, Maurine and Hazel, did not go into Court reporting as did we five boys. Nor did they become lawyers, as we did. It was our mother's desire that we boys become ministers. (She would finally have been satisfied with one, but never attained her desire.) In addition to the political offices held by Jimmy, shown at the front of this volume, each of the other four have held political office.

Oran was County Attorney of Stephens County.

Ben was District Attorney of the 30th District, comprised of Wichita, Young and Archer Counties.

Ray was County Attorney of Wheeler County, and District Attorney of the 31st District, comprised of Gray, Lipscomb, Hemphill, Wheeler and Robert counties.

Renne, Jr. was County Attorney of Montague County and District Judge of Gregg and Rush Counties, all of the above in Texas.

Although Maurine and Hazel did not become Court Reporters or lawyers and did not hold political office, both attended the Commerical College, became secretaries and later married. Both of them were as politically minded as their brothers. Jimmy was, and we brothers who are still living are, deeply grateful to them for their political assistance.

3- Had our father, Renne Allred, Sr., had the educational opportunities afforded his children, he would, in my judgment, have made a great lawyer. He had the native talent. Some of it is demonstrated by his ability to write the beautiful words which he did write in 1944 following his 80th birthday, as follows:

Houston, Texas
12-26-1944

Dear Renne and Velma:

I don't know if you have heard what the town of Bellaire did for me on my 80th birthday anniversary, which was the surprise of my life. I got a phone call to come to the Bellaire cafe at 2 PM and I came just 7 minutes before that time. I had no place to comb my hair or put on a clean shirt. I supposed the proprietor was going to Houston and was taking me along. I got Joe Betsy to drive me down to get there in time.

When we went in, the house was full. Judge, lawyer, doctor, preacher, pipe fitters and a hog caller. I was abashed. My mind went from me. I saw a table, a cake two feet long, three stories high with this inscription on top:

"Renne Allred, Sr., 80 years old."

Allred con't.

I had never been at such before. I knew I was supposed to say something, but what? I said, "Joe Betsy take my place" which she did in a fitting manner and while she was doing that I relaxed and my mind began to function, and I said:

"Friends, I don't know what I have done or said to merit all this. I have been passing and repassing you for two years and know every one of you. Being deaf, I don't know your names. I don't know more than a dozen by name.

Being uneducated, I am short on words and short on language, but had I the learning of Voltaire, the voice of a Beech or a Bryan, I would still like something to express my appreciation of this occasion at your hands.

I like the little town of Bellaire for it has the blackest land and the whitest people on earth. It has more ugly men and more pretty women than any town its size under the canopy of Heaven.

So I thank you again for giving me the greatest reception and the largest cake I ever received in my 80 years on Earth."

From the handclapping I think I "kinder" redeemed myself from my former awkward position.

Do you know while Joe Betsy was cutting that cake, a thought ran through my mind. I hated to see the knife go through that name. It had carried honor through four generations in a direct line. Never a debt unpaid nor a contract voided--- never took the bankrupt law or claimed limitation that I ever heard of, and may it ever be so.

You will find that my father's saying is true:

"If you make a bad trade, stick the tighter to it. Your word is worth more than the gain by backing out."

"Renne Allred, Sr."

William, our grandfather, apparently had only one lawsuit. 24 Tex 184. He asserted title to 320 acres in Grayson County, a pre-emption survey and was sued by Fowler and Chism for the entire 320 acres. The supreme court in 1859 held Allred's title to 160 acres was good, but Fowler and Chism had better title to the balance. The 320 acres was divided between them.

CONCLUSION

This volume is presented to you in honor and memory generally or all of our departed kinspeople, and specifically in honor and memory of James V Allred(1899-1959) who started it. Had Jimmy never used that typewriter on July 4, 1957, this volume would not have been completed. It seems appropriate to me at this time to quote a statement made by him when he was Governor of Texas (1935-38), as follows:

" I love Texas because it gave me the breath of life at birth; I love it because my forefathers settled here 99 years ago and pledged their posterity to its service. I love it because of its romantic and historic traditions; because of its lands and its people; and because I believe it can be a greater Texas tomorrow and next year than it has ever been before. I want to see Texas grow and prosper; I want only to reflect credit to my native state."

Allred Con't.

We have tried to keep this volume to our immediate family - from William Allred (1828-1888) on down to the present. Had we not done so, but had attempted to follow the footsteps of all Allreds everywhere, this volume would never have been in your hands.

It is submitted with love and affection to all Allreds everywhere.

Sincerely,
Renne Allred, Jr.

APPENDIX "B"

"Excerpts from letters written by Renne Allred, Sr., to Renne Allred, Jr., Nov. 4, 1945, and to Velma Allred Dec. 25, 1942."

"It is an established fact that the name Allred was originated in Wales and drifted to England, thence to the U.S.A., at the time that history says the Crown of England issued an edict that all subjects had to join the Church of England, and they were a type of people willing to do anything, but couldn't be made to do "nothing", so to avoid the consequences that would follow their refusal to join the Church and old Widower and his son came to this country."

"William Allred, my grandfather, married a French lady named Patience Julian and to that union was born nine boys and one girl named Sousana. (Susan - 1810-1890) I found Sousana through a book agent, when a boy, and had several letters from her. She was an old, old lady when I was a boy. She said for many years they wondered what had become of her brother Renne. William and Patience settled a house at Coffins Mill, N.C.

Allred con't.

"This Renne had violated his father's rules in some way that he knew he would get a whipping, so when night came Renne was gone. He struck a train of immigrants going to East Tennessee and told a man that if he would take him along he would build the firss, feed the teams, etc., and he worked for that man a year for his board and clothes. He got afraid his father would find him and struck another man going to Middle Tennessee and made the same trade with him and worked for him a year as previously stated and traded with another man going to West Tennessee on the same basis.

Then he was 16 and made a real hand but got small pay account of age. He was thrifty and soon accumulated enough to buy him a home and then married. I am sorry I can't remember my father's mother's name (Margaret Ward), but she died shortly after the birth of one boy and one girl. The boy he named after his father, William, and the girl was Elizabeth. We called her Aunt Bettie.

This William Allred was Renne, Jr.'s grandfather, and Renne, the first, was his great-grandfather. He was a widower with these two children. He owned his farm and stock and out of debt and that was the basis of his, my grandfather, and his son's religion.

He had a friend who came to Texas and joined Sam Houston to whip Santa Anna. This friend knew Renne was struggling, and after the war he wrote Renne and a part of the letter read like this:

"Renne, you ought to come to Texas. The grass is as high as a man on a horse and stock lives all the year without feeding and you don't need anything but bread and salt. All kinds of meat, buffalo, bear, deer, antelope, turkey, prairie chicken, etc., and the state is giving all Tennesseans a headright of land."

Renne was 32 years old. He soon made up his mind. The next day he announced his farm, crop and stock were for sale, everything except the feather bed, two dogs, the children and their clothes and a rifle, and he fixed a price that was for quick sale. He took the children, dogs and bedding down to the landing of the steam boats on the Mississippi and went to New Orleans.

When we got to New Orleans a wagon train of Germans were there preparing for an overland trip to New Braunfels, so he bought a yoke of oxen, a prairie schooner, loaded his bedding and finished out his load with meal and salt, and while all the Germans turned to the left, he was headed for Dugan's Fort on Red River (Grayson County). He made about fifteen miles a day. Killed all the meat with that muzzle, a deer rifle. He had no compass but the North Star. After a while his road ended, and he was on land that no white man had ever traversed.

When he got to the Sabine River, no crossing, he inspected and found the easiest place to dig down, and by going up the river bed he found where he could dig out. It took him seven days to cross, and when across, a big pine forest confronted him. He had to chop many places to get through, but eventually he came to a broad prairie.

After a long trip, he discovered where wagons had been and followed the tracts to Dugan's Fort and located his headright three or four miles of where Bells is now. The Denison-Bells highway runs through his land and near where he built his home. This was in the summer of 1837. He left Tennessee in the spring of 1837.

About three miles south of the Fort he settled, and his house is near Mill Creek. He built the best house in the whole country, at that time, 4 rooms with an 8 foot hall running north and south-east and west.

Allred Con't.

And the upstairs was one room 16x40 feet, and I have seen 32 men and women dancing in that room at one time, use to have court there, as well as a dancing school and teacher.

It was after this that the Indians made their last fight in Grayson County though they visited Clay, Montague, Wise and Denton Counties in 1869. About 1000 came through Montague County and murdered the Keenan family near where Geo. W. Henson, Renne Jr.,'s mother's family lived, though she was born later, and her father was one of 40 men to follow them. They overtook them in Denton County and made battle and the Indians win and sent them home, but the 40 men killed several and only one of the 40 got shot which was not fatal. The Indians had only bows and arrows to fight with, but the odds was too great, and they skedaddled home and the Indians had enough and went through Young County back to the plains, killing many on their route. Joe Bryant and the McDonalds of Montague were in this bunch of 40 men. George Henson told me, and I have heard Joe Bryant tell the same and know it's true, while Joe made it Brave they stood the fight and George Henson said "we were scared, they were surrounding us and we run like turkeys."

I am very proud of my ancestors. They were honest and never wanted a gift. They didn't believe the world owed them a living. All were hard workers at all times.

Renne Allred, Sr.

Editor: We are so pleased to present one of Mrs. Crespi's lines and hope that she will let us print others as her work progresses on them. So many of her ancestors came from our county or state. Well known, important people in the settlement of our county, and especially, during the early years. At the end of this work we will print her chart and some questions and problems that she is working on. If you have any material that will help her-please write to her. Send your material, when you write and remember the self-stamped envelopes!)

Lying immediately north of the Street road, and extending from Brandywine to the line of Westtown, was a tract of 1000 acres, laid out for William Cornthwet and Edward Atkinson, purchasers of 500 acres each from Penn, and who sold the same to John Cornwell and William Hudson, of Philadelphia. By a survey on 1701 there proved to be 1132 acres. JOHN DAVIS, of Thornbury, purchased the eastern half of it in 1712, and by will dated March 3, 1719, divided it between his sons, Daniel, Abraham, and John, the first receiving 166 acres next the Street road, and the others 200 each. Of the remainder of the large tract, Samuel Painter purchased, in 1722, about 300 acres.

Abraham Davis, who owned 200 acres next the Westtown line, was succeeded by his eldest son, John, who in turn left one son Amos. The latter, with Eleanor, his wife, conveyed to Joshua Sharpless 4, 19, 1784. It was next divided between Joshua Sharpless son's, Benjamin and Isaac, the latter obtaining the farm late of his son Aaron, whose family still reside thereon.

Susannah Davis, a widow, lived alone in a log house on the site of the residence of the late Aaron Sharpless, and was murdered on the night of Jan. 3d, 1782. Joseph Dennis, of Vincent, offered a reward of ten pounds specie for the arrest of George Holt, an Englishman, who was accused of robbery and the murder, but it does not appear that he was caught. (Another reference said it was Joseph Davis, her son, who put up the reward).

David Haines had lived and deceased in the old stone part of the dwelling house, - latterly occupied by William Wollerton, - it having a wooden kitchen at the east end. He was succeeded therein by JAMES DAVIS, who was the son of ABRAHAM DAVIS and SUSANNAH, his wife, who lived in the old stone house on the road, where Joshua Sharpless lived and died. James had married Patience Bishop, a widow with one child named Ruth. Patience was the third daughter of Robert Miller the elder and Ruth, his wife, of the Great Valley, a little west of Downingtown. About this time a few of the settlers in Chester County were disposed to emigrate to North Carolina, with a view to enlarge their estates. For this purpose they fixed on New Garden and Cane Creek for their residence. Among this number thus removed was JAMES DAVIS and his family, and after his departure the dwelling and farm was taken possession of by the said Ralph Forrester. The road that led to the house passed through a gate nearly opposite to the brick dwelling-house known as Turk's Head tavern.
