LONG, LOST PAINTED SPRINGS IS BACK ON A MAP

Greensboro Daily News February 12, 1973

"Local Mapmaker Finds Landmark" By Bill Lee

A long, lost landmark used in 1770 to lay out the Guilford County Boundary line has been rediscovered.

It's right where it always was, but due to the formation of several counties since that time, it now lies on the border of Randolph and Davidson counties.

Its name is Painted Springs.

Painted Springs was lost to history sometime after 1799 when the name was used for the last time in state or county records.

In fact, a commission formed in the 1800's to check up on county boundary lines looked all over for Painted Springs and couldn't find it.

Now it's been found again.

And Painted Springs is already back on the map . . . on one map, anyway.

Because one of the men who found Painted Springs is a mapmaker, and he's already drawn it in to his recent maps of Davidson and Randolph counties.

One of those maps is printed here, showing an eastern view of Davidson County with Painted Springs letered in.

It was drawn by Garland P. Stout of 1209 Hill St. who, besides being a mapmaker is also a historian and genealogist - or someone who studied family trees.

Stout has drawn maps of 52 North Carolina Counties and they are in great demand because they include not only roads, towns, and rivers but also churches, old landmarks, and the names of all post offices that have ever existed in a county.

He even includes the dates - when they are available, - of the founding of a church or a town.

His first map, in fact, was of Randolph County.

Ask Stout about when he first heard of Painted Springs, and he'll reply, "Well, I don't remember." Then he'll pull out a sheat of paper he typed out summarizing the official boundary line of Guilford County as published in 1770.

"....a line beginning at a point 25 miles due west of Hillsborough, running thence north to the Virginia line, then west to a point due routh of Painted Springs, then south to Anson line," and it goes on.

Thus, according to official state records where Stout obtained this description, Painted Springs was a legal landmark in the formation of Guilford County.

Guilford was formed originally from Orange and Rowan Counties and a line running due morth and south from Painted Springs separated it from Rowan. Since, Guilford has been subdivided into Randolph and Rockingham Counties, and Rowan has lost territory to Davidson.

That is how the landmark comes to lie on the Davidson-Randolph line, nearly due west of Asheboro and along the old route of U. S. 64, now State Road 1344.

In his work with maps and with knowledge gained from studying his family lineage, Stout has learned a great deal about the history of the Uwharrle area - where the landmark is - and he's known for a long time that Painted Springs was somewhere around.

Meanwhile, a Dr. John Scott Davenport whowas also doing some geneological research in the Uwharrie area, came to know of Stout's mapmaking of the area and contacted him.

They together decided to find Painted Springs.

Company of the state of Na Array Crist State Co. Sec.

Dr. Davenport of Cincinatti, Ohio, dug up some information from the Randolph and Rowan county courthouses about Painted Springs, that it lay along an old trading path used by the Indians and then by the settlers who traded with the Indians.

the problem for the Land

Davenport's information showed that between 1759 and 1799 various commissioners were named to oversee goads, and that records indicating their jurisdictions often mentioned Painted Springs.

The last commissioner was Daniel Hoover who oversaw the road "from Widow Hoover's to the Painted Springs" according to Randolph County records. The Hoovers, incidentally, were ancesters of the late Prevident Herbert Hoover.

Another help to Stout in locating Painted Springs was a copy of the Mouzon map, printed ino 1775 which located the trading path through the Uwharries. Painted Springs is not mentioned on that map, however.

Nor were the commissioners charged to confirming boundary lines able to find a map with Painted Springs, apparently as they were unable to find it, and had to officially establish the boundary by talking to people in the area.

How did Painted Springs get its name? No one really knows 'really but Stout has a theory.

"I visited a gentleman who lived a mile from Painted Springs, who is now 72 and had lived in the area his entire life" St ut said. "He remembered stories by his grandparents if Indians camping at the springs site, but he had never heard the name Painted Springs."

Stout thinks that maybe the name derives from the possibility that the Indians may have produced their colored dyes on rocks in the vicinity of the spring. Thus, of course, the name.

Stout, who began mapmaking as a hobby some years ago and spends much of his time on it now that he has retired has looked Painted Springs over pretty well.

It lies, he says, just below the roadway of the state highway and just above the old trading path. "You can still see the old trading path roadbed," he says.

He would like the state to declare Painted Springs a historical landmark and erect a marker, maybe even develop a little roadside park at the site.

In any case, Painted Springs is making a comeback.

Every more of Randolph and Davidson Counties drawn by Stout will have Painted Crings on it, and Stout will continue his search for other landmarks which have been misplaced in history.

As for Painted Springs, you are the first to know that it has been rediscovered.

THE RANDLEMAN STORE

The Randleman Store Company was the first store in town of Randleman and continued as such for a great many years. Being a general store a variety of articles were handled. Almost anything that could be purchased could be had at the Randleman Store Company. After having run the store for a number of years the Randleman Manufacturing Company sold the store to N. N. and J. N. Newlin in 1881. The two brothers remained active in the business until N. N. Newlin's death in 1935. His death came about in the same year in which his son, Jack Newlin, became an active partner in the store. J. J. Newlin passed away in the early part of 1944, remaining active almost until the time of his death.

HOLLY SPRING

Whoever may have been the first to settle in the Holly Spring Community, we are reasonably sure on one thing - that he was a Quaker from Pennsylvania, and that he is now sleeping in the old Stone Graveyard, located on lands now belonging to Theodore Cox. Around 200 pioneers rest there, many of them nameless upon this earth forever. The two Indians who were the first persons to be buried there, according to tradition, are no longer to be distinguished from their pale-faced neighbors.

It is not known whether there has ever been a house of worship at this location, although a reference in the Cane Creek minutes of 1765 to the "Meeting of Indulgence on the Mill Creek in Cox's Settlement" indicated that services of wirship were held nearby. It is evident that this site was originally chosen for the Meeting, but it's proximity to the river on the east, and its distance from the true center of the growing Quaker community, led Friends in later years to condider a new location. In 1787 Richard Caswell deeded 50 acres of land to Banjamin Cox "for the use of the Society of people called the Quakers." This location derived its name from the holly trees which overshadowed a nearby spring. The first structure was built of logs, and stood just east of the cemetery where one of the corner stones may still be seen. Tradition sayd that this house was burned. At any rate, a new frame building was erected around 1830, which stood until 1890, when a new Meeting House was built.

It is difficult to ascertain the exact date of the beginning of the Meeting, as the records of Cane Creek, its parent Meeting are not clea. In second month, 1788, Friends "inhabiting on the waters of Deep River" request to hold a meeting every First-day, which was granted. The first mention of the name Holly Spring occurs in the minutes of eighth month, 1769, when Christopher Hussey and Joseph Comer were appointed Overseers. A Preparative Meeting was set up in 1790, and an independent Monthly Meeting was established in 1818, with Robert Moffitt, Clerk.

The earliest known certificate of membership was brought down from Pennsylvania by William Cox in 1752, to Cane Creek, It was necessary for it to be left there until the Meetling was established at Holly Spring. The community was first known as the "Cox settlement" on account of the abundance of Cox families. Other prominent names of the early years are Moffitt, Barker, Hadley, Comer, Hinshaw, Kemp, Davis, and Allen.

From the early days of Holyy Spring as a Monthly Meeting a school was held under the direction of the Meeting. The school house stood about a hundred yards south of the first log Meeting House. Braxton V. Craven who was to become the first president of Trinity College, now Duke University, was teacher for one twem. At one time there were six different schools under the firection of Hooly Spring Monthly Meeting, viz, Holly Spring, Bethel, Middleton, Pine Ridge, Woody's and Tabernacle. A well-stocked library was kept un the Meeting House, the remnants of which are kept until the present time.

By 1832 the great western migration had set in. Just how many people left the comminity we do not know, but Holly Spring has never since been the Quaker stronghold that it was formerly. The Meeting suffered severely during the Civil War period. A number of the men, not being willing to bear arms, were subject to severe punishment. An account of their suffering for their peace testimony may be found in Fernando Cartland's Southern Heroes. The Meeting was assisted in various ways by Friends in the North.

A careful study of the minutes reveal the fact that early Holly Spring Friends were strong leaders in bearing testimony against the moral evils of the day. Determined efforts were made to keep the membership clear of worldliness. Committees were appointed to labor with Friends who had departed from Quaker ideals in dress and conduct, and, if no changes resulted, such individuals were disowned.

When the North Carolina Yearly Meeting adopted the Pastoral System generally Holly Spring continued to depend on resident and viniting young ministers for several years. William Cox, Franklin, Hinshaw, and J. F. Jones served the Meeting well as redident ministers. Thomas Midrew was the first non-resident minister to serve the Meeting in a pastoral capacity, followed by Ed Harris, B. B. Bulla, Don Gates, Allie R. Kemp, Jack Caughron, and Howard Ward., who is present pastor. J. Waldo Woody was also helpful as a retired minister and teacher. Allie R. Kemp was the first full time pastor.

As new customs and practices were introduced a group of the more conservative members of the Meeting withdrew and formed a new Monthly Meeting, the third month 12th day 1910 and held meetings at Holly Spring until a new Meeting House was erected just north of Holly Spring known as Friends—ville.

Four other Monthly Meetings have been set up from Holly Spring namely, Bethel, Prosperity, High Falls and Needham's Grove (the latter now discontinued.)

The Holly Spring Meeting House was one of the few remaining places of worship in the North Carolina Yearly Meeting where the distinctive Quaker gallery and facing benches were still in use and where a pattition separated men's and women's business meetings. The gallery was separated by this partition but a small door once permitted the passing of business from one clerk's desk to the other's.

In the summer of 1960 this historical Meeting House was replaced by a beautiful and more modern structure of colonial architecture copied and originally designed by Sir Christopher Wrenn of London, England.

The Building Committee appointed by the Monthly Meeting was as follows: Clyde T. Hinshaw, Chariman; A. V. Phillips, Comehairman; John H. Hodgin, Secretary; Elmer Allen, Francis E. Byrd, John C. Cox, and Burton Macon.

With the help of the entire membership and other interested friends, the new Meeting House was completed and the first service was held the third day eighth month 1960. Isaac Harris brought the message. Our executive secretary, Seth B. Hinshaw, was present for the day.

The present membership is one hundred and seventy three.

SCIENCE HILL

In the southwestern part of Randolph County seven miles from Asheboro just off State Highway No. 49 in a beautiful grove of oak, hickory, pine, and maple trees may be seen a large white edifice, Science Hill Friends Meeting House.

Prior to the setting up of a meeting house in this locality the Methodists had held services in the one toom school house which stood on a knoll just south of the present structure. All people of the area were welcomed to these services. It is not known when this school was begun but there was a session in 1850 and it was called Science Hill Academy. The school was continued as an Academy for many years and prepared students for college and was taught by graduattes of the University at Chapel Hill, Trinity College, and New Garden Boarding School. Later it became a District School and was discontinued in 1908.

The meeting was probably named for this school or for the Post Office which was established in 1854.

According to records found in an old minute book it is learned that the people in the vicinity of Science Hill in Randolph County, N. C. on the 21st day of January 1876 met in regard to forming a Society for the promotion of Temperance. A pledge taken by the members of the organizations was "We the undersigned do agree that we will not use Intoxicating Liquors not traffic in them, as a beverage; that we will not provide them as an article of entertainment or for persons in our employment and that in all suitable ways we will discountenance their use throughout the community." The records show that the Society or its successor continued to meet until April 1917. For years they met each month, then Quarterly.

There were about three hundred names on the roll. Members were listed for miles around. Whether this was the membership at any one time or an accumulative list is not indicated. Some members were released or discurded, probably for not keeping the pledge.

Since there were several Friends in the community who were either members of Back Creek Meeting or had married and come to live in the community and had Friendly convictions, there was a feeling that Friends might organize and set up a meeting there.

In the summer of 1892 Mary Moon, a Friends minister from Indiana held a series of evangelistic services in a brush arbor near the school house. These must have been very inspiring as people came from miles around. Thirty nine services were reported with 160 being converted or reclaimed. There was a great spiritual awakening, such as this section had never know. There was a felt need for a Friends Meeting House where they might worship and so this band of Friends set themselves to the task of constructing the Meeting House in which we worship today.

In those days many of the group were just young people starting on the journey of life, or parents with small children. But they had a fixed purpose, and each family and individual gave as liberally as he felt he could of money, time, material, and energy. Thus it was that with the untiring efforts of the Lowes, Vuncannons, Winslows, Binghams, Lewises, Lassiters, and Lewallens the house was built and paid for.

It was begun in 1893 and completed in 1894. This was on land given by Nereus and Sam Lowe - eight acres. Much of the cost was paid for by labor at 50¢ per day; hauling with a team to Asheboro, $1.50 per day. Henry Cranford the chief carpenter was paid $1.25 per day and 50¢ for making out the bill for the building - a total of $36 for his work. Shingles were made by hand from trees on the lot and others donated by N. M., John and William Loew. One man was paid $37.38 for making 21,300 shingles.

On the twenty-sixth day of fifth month, 1894, at the Southern Quarterly Meeting of Friends, the following request mas made; "The Friends of Science Hill request through Back Creek Monthly Meeting, for a Monthly Meeting to be set up at that place and to be held on the fourth seventh day in each month, except on the second, fifth, eighth and eleventh months, then to be held on the third seventh day, and to be known as Science Hill Monthly Meeting of Friends which this meeting in joint session approves, and appoints Henry H. Beeson, Levi B. Mason, Dr. Charles C. Hubbard, Levi Cox, Elma C. Macon, Lizzie Coltraine, Grace Lowe, and Isabella Henley to attend to the setting up of said Meeting, on the fourth seventh day in seventh month next at 11 o'clock and report to next meeting."

The committee appointed to attend the opening of Science Hill Monthly Meeting met at the time appointed and opened the meeting by appointing Elwood Cox and Isabelle Henley Clerks for the day. There were eighty five charter members, the greater part of this number being young people of teen age and children.

It is interesting to note that at the setting up of Science Hill Monthly Meeting, William C. Winslow was appointed Clerk and this position was held by him till his death in 1933. Then the Assistant Clerk, Hope Hubbard, was given this responsibility and has been serving the meeting ever since.

As the years have come and gone the membership has changed greatly. Many have moved from the community and during the same time others have moved in. Through lives such as these God's Kingdom is extended. The present membership is 134.

For many years Sarah E. Wilson Winslow and John Shaw Tillman, local ministers, brought messages to the Meeting as they felt led but without much financial support. The first pastor who was promised some financial support was Alvin Barrett, also pastor of Asheboro Meeting who came to us once each month for one year beginning 1916. Other pastors have been Herbert W. Reynolds, Oscar Cox, Clarence Macon, Calvin Gregory, Edward B. Harris, Victor Murchison, Charlie Lamar. Returning for another parios of service was Edward B. Harris beginning the year 1943-44 but he became ill and his nephew Alfred Harris supplied for the rest of the year. Then Seth B. Hinshaw, Luther McPherson, Baud B. Bulla, J. Waldo Woody, J. Floyd Moore, Warl Redding, Larry Emerson, Joseph Moorefield, Charles Snow, J. Floyd Moore for a second time then the present pastor George McDowell.

The outstanding revivals the Meeting has known were led by Mary Moon, Elizabeth Fields Moon, Milner Angel Cox, Edward B. Harris, Lewis McFarland, and Calvin Gregory.

It is interesting to note that a goodly number of our members have attended Guilford College and at least eighteen have taught in public schools and one is now teaching in International School, Geneva, Switzerland.

The contribution of the co A Missionary Society has been part of the activities for many years. There is an organized group of Quaker Men. Christian Endeavor Societies have flourished from time to time, and we now have a Youth fellowship. The group spurred on by the zeal of Kate Gearren is much concerned with the giving of used clothing and helping in other ways with projects of the American Friends Service Committee. The property for the way the exercise of the party in

The group is grateful to Ida Lowe Hicks who left a sizeable donation in her will for use by the Meeting. And to Worth Lowe, son of one of the original donors of the land for the gift of land to bring the Meeting property up to the new road leading to North Carolina State Highway N. 49.

Many who have had a physical and spiritual part in the growth of our meeting have left an influence for good and we honor their lives. While many changes have been made to meet the needs of the present day, we trust that these changes are for a better day. May we consecrate our lives to the great work of promoting the Kingdom of God.

DEEP RIVER MILLS, INC

In June 1911, the interests of the Randleman Manufacturing Company, Naomi Falls Manufacturing Company, Plaidville Mill and Marie Antoinette Mill were taken over by the Deep River Mills, Inc., with the following men making up the official s of the company: J. C. Watkins, President and Treasurer; T. A. Hunter, Becretary, and R. P. Deal, Manager.

The company owned about 330 acres of land, two dams, mill buildings, and dwellings. The new company installed an extensive and modern power plant which was used to operate all of this machinery. About 600 people were employed by the Deep River Mills, Inc.

MARIE ANTOINETTE MILL

The Marie Antoinette Mill was completed in 1895 and was built by the same interests and controlled by the Randleman Manufacturing Company. The mill was located about half way between the Plaidwille Mill and the Randleman Manufacturing Company, and was named for Mr. Ferroe's two daughters. The Marie Antoinette Mill was featured as the cover of the Fall Issue of The Quarterly.
